Even Reds Join Ranger 7 Praise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

America's Ranger 7 moon shot drew worldwide praise today, including compliments from the Russians who were quick to point out that they snapped the first lunar photographs five years ago.

Some British newspapers said the shot put the United States ahead of the Soviet Union in the space race. Most of the world press hailed it as one of the great advances in lunar astronomy, without reference to competition between the two major powers.

Brilliant: Red Professor

News that the United States had the first close-up pictures of the moon won front-page headlines in major capitals even before the photographs were made public.

Soviet Professor Gigan Melnikov called the shot "brilliant," Moscow Radio reported. "We are told that the pictures are excellent. What is important is that they were taken at close range. They show things that could never be seen in any other way," he said.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said: "Soviet scientists are happy to note that the launching of Ranger 7 is a new national achievement of the United States in its program of exploration of the moon and a contribution to the study of outer space."

Weren't Closeup Shots

The agency added: "The Soviet Union was the pioneer of taking photographs of the moon by means of an automatic interplanetary station. The world remembers that in October of (1959) the reverse invisible (dark) side of the moon was photographed."

The Soviet still pictures of the far side of the moon provided the first solid evidence of what the hidden side looked like, but the photographs were not close-up.

The success of the experiment gives new evidence that the Americans have mastered the problem of thrusting a heavy payload into space and directing it toward a desired target," said Prof. Auguste Collier of the French Academy of Science.

Erhard Sends Praise

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany said in a telegram to President Johnson: "We are happy with the American people over this tremendous technical and scientific achievement."

The news was broadcast every hour by the Communist Czechoslovak Radio and in Budapest a Communist Hungarian news agency quoted space travel expert Enroe Nagy, who praised the achievement.

Rosendale to Get Emergency Water: Ski Group Pledge

Officials of the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., which indicated they would exercise their option to purchase the 117-acre mountain which has become an emergency source of water supply in Rosendale's current reservoir supply shortage, said today that when their option is exercised they will furnish the village water "free of charge" during any emergency.

Claims Legal Interest

Investors in the corporation, who are trying to raise $25,000 to buy the famous Rosendale site for redevelopment as a ski jumping center, claimed legal interest Friday in the village's emergency source of water supply: the lime caves at the foot of the mountain.

Through an agreement with the mountain's owner, Mrs. Mary Sammons, the village was laying pipes to pump the clear water from the Binnewater flow into the village's reservoir. It was reported that Mrs. Sammons would be compensated according to the quantity of water taken from water source.

Joppenbergh stockholders, meanwhile, said they would serve notice on the village that as holders of an option to purchase the mountain — which has until Aug. 10 to expire — that the village would "have to deal with us" in any efforts to negotiate for use of the water supply. Counsel for Mrs. Sammons, however, said that the corporation stockholders had no legal interest until they actually exercised the option.

Talk Electrol Sale, May Reopen on Monday

Negotiations are under way for the sale of Electrol Incorporated, 85 Grand Street to Zerek Enterprises of Woodstock, with a possible reopening of the plant on Monday, it was reported today.

Joseph Mizerek, a Woodstock contractor and owner of the Zerek firm, said he had entered a contract for the purchase of the local manufacturer of hydraulic units from Avien, its parent plant in Woodside, L. I. Mizerek said that as far as he was concerned the sale was official and the plant would reopen Monday with a new owner. He added that the Zerek firm had assumed all responsibility for the money owed the slightly more than 200 Electrol employees laid off after the plant's shutdown July 20.

However, William S. Gilmore, president and manager of Electrol Inc. denied that the sale was complete or that the plant would definitely reopen Monday.

He remarked that Leo A. Weiss, Avien's president would discuss the matter with him in greater detail this afternoon.

Sums reportedly ranging from $500 to $750 per person were still due the employees when the company closed. The closedown was attributed to refinancing problems facing Avien. Machinery was removed from the plant by legal procedure and left in custody of Sheriff Claude Bell.

The firm filed for Federal Court protection under a section of the Bankruptcy Act to prevent confiscation of machinery by the company's creditors, according to Leo A. Weiss, Avien's president.

It was reported a few days ago that Electrol and its parent plant were "completely solvent" and that the local firm intended to reopen "shortly."

Mizerek said that he had been negotiating for the purchase of the plant for about a month. He (Continued on Page 5, Col. 1)

Two Trips Will Take 8 Months

Two More Rangers Planned in 1965

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. moon shot jinx is broken and a parade of unmanned lunar expeditions will follow. But next on the space schedule are two picture-taking "fly-by" probes of Mars.

Both will be launched during a 28-day period starting in late October, a period that is favorable for reaching Mars. The trips will take eight months.

To Resemble Mariner 2

The planet comes into position as a target only once every two years and U.S. scientists want to collect as much data as possible this time in preparation for landing an unmanned craft on the next go-around.

Named Mariners 3 and 4, the two shots will closely resemble the Mariner 2 probe that successfully flew past Venus in 1962. The two Mariners are to fly by Mars, snap television pictures and gather scientific data.

The parade of moon expeditions — leading toward the Apollo man-to-the-moon program before 1970 — will include two more Rangers and several landings in two advanced programs, Surveyor and Lunar Orbiter.

The moon shot program is scheduled to resume in January with Ranger 8. It will have essentially the same mission as Ranger 7: closeup television pictures. The area and type of target it will seek will be determined after the Ranger 7 pictures are analyzed. Ranger 9, with a similar assignment, is to follow in February or March to conclude the Ranger project.

By then scientists expect to have a good idea of the general characteristics of the lunar landscape.

Surveyor in Mid-1965

The first Surveyor, a wheel-looking craft, is slated for an initial launching in mid-1965. In contrast to the Ranger hard landings, Surveyors are to make so-called soft landings on the moon.

Small motors will help them set down gently on the surface. Early Surveyors will measure radiation, micrometeorites and magnetic fields and will sink drills into the soil to dig up samples which will be analyzed for certain ingredients in small on-board laboratories.

Will Prowl Surface

Advanced Surveyors, scheduled for 1966-67, are expected to release small roving vehicles to prowls about the surface up to a radius of two miles from the mother craft.

The first Lunar Orbiter is scheduled for launching in 1966. It will orbit the moon, approaching as close as 30 miles, taking photographs of most of the surface. Tracking of the craft's orbit will permit precise calculation of the size and shape of the moon and the nature of its gravitational field. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 6)

IBM Adding Warehouse In Ulster

Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant at Kingston, announced today that a new warehouse will be built at the company's site in the Town of Ulster.

Henry H. Swart and Son of Kingston has been awarded the general contract. Construction will begin Monday, Aug. 3 and occupancy is scheduled for early 1965. The warehouse will be located at the rear of the plant property.

According to Whalen, "The increase in production of commercial data processing equipment at the Kingston plant during the past two years has created a greater need for consolidation of production material storage. With the construction of this new warehouse, we will be able to handle all of our warehousing at Kingston with greater efficiency and to provide all departments here with the materials they need."

The new building will provide truck docks and will contain approximately 100,000 feet of floor space.

No change is forecasted in employment at IBM's Kingston facilities as a result of construction of the new warehouse.

Keating Appears In Paltz Today

Highlight of the New Paltz Stone House Day festivities today will be a dedication ceremony directed by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating at 3:45 p. m.

The New York State Senator is scheduled to dedicate the bronze plaque received by the Historical Society last May 16, placing Huguenot Street in the list of National Historic sites.

Jay LeFevre, former Congressman from New Paltz, will introduce Sen. Keating. Kenneth E. Hasbrouck will present LeFevre. Color guard will be formed by members of the Huguenot Society of New York.

The Stone House Day celebration began at 10 o'clock this morning.

7 Persons Hurt, Two Seriously In Area Crashes

Seven persons were injured, two seriously, in traffic accidents Friday in the Kingston area.

One of the drivers was cited for a traffic violation while two others involved in a midweek accident in the Town of Ulster were issued summonses for three violations.

Bicyclist Critically Hurt

A nine-year-old Kingston bicyclist was critically injured in a collision with a car about 9:45 Friday night on Route 28 about a quarter mile west of the Thruway traffic circle in the Town of Ulster.

Peter Loughran, of 36 Liberty Street, was taken by Doctors Ambulance to Benedictine Hospital where he was treated for head and internal injuries. He was reported in critical condition today.

State Police at Lake Katrine substation said Gusto Henry Kindberg, 52, of 186 Pine Street, Kingston, was driving east on Rt. 28 when the Loughran boy drove his bike into the right side of the lane and struck the left front of Kindberg's vehicle. Trooper Robert Mackey investigated.

Four Hurt on 209

Four persons were injured and a driver was cited for a traffic violation after a two-car accident about 4:15 p. m. Friday on Rt. 209 about a half-mile north of Rt. 213 at Stone Ridge.

board of scientists who Friday night released 10 of the 4,316 sensational photographs Ranger 7 snapped in the final 16 minutes and 40 seconds before it crashed on the moon at 8:25 a. m. (EST) Friday morning.

The first close-up pictures ever taken of the moon — termed 1,000 times better than any made heretofore from spacecraft or with earth telescopes — showed that even its vast, apparently smooth "seas" are pocked with craters, some as small as dishpans.

There may be some dust on the moon, in layers up to a foot thick, but not deep enough to bury a landing vehicle, the scientists concluded. And, underneath the dust, evidence indicates, is a hard primary layer.

Whether it would support the weight of a large manned spacecraft cannot be determined from photographs alone.

More Evaluations Today

To these conclusions announced after several hours study Friday night, additional evaluations will be added today at a presidential press conference.

Dr. William H. Pickering, director of Jet Propulsion Laboratory which made Ranger 7 and released the first pictures, left late Friday to attend the White House session.

President Johnson earlier telephoned congratulations to Pickering and others at the laboratory, which was much criticized in recent months for six straight failures in the $200 million Ranger moon research program.

At Friday's news conference where slides of the historic moon pictures were shown, Dr. Gerard Kuiper, of the Lunar and Planetary Laboratory of the University of Arizona, said the most significant thing about them is that they reveal no unanticipated problems to be met in the design of moon landing craft.

At least part of the area photographed by Ranger 7 — a northern extension of the Sea of Clouds southwest of the center of the face of the moon — would be unsuitable for landing because of the large number of small craters, Kuiper said.

"If you want to land a ship,

3-Day Sessions Start Thursday

Election, Parade Will Highlight Vols' Parley

Next Saturday's parade, which will climax the 29th annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, is expected to be the largest ever with five divisions participating in the 1.6 mile parade route in Rosendale.

The parade is set for 5 p. m. on Saturday, Aug. 8, in Rosendale. The convention gets underway Thursday night with the annual banquet slated for 6:30 p. m. at Sportsmen's Park Restaurant.

Election of officers will highlight the agenda at the Friday night session at Bloomington Firehouse starting at 8 p. m.

Hosts for the three-day parley are the Bloomington, Binnewater, Cottekill, High Falls and Rosendale Fire Companies under the organizational title of the Volunteer Firemen's Association. Heading the convention committee are Herbert Faurote and Charles Peterson of Bloomington serving as co-general chairmen.

Other convention highlights include an address Thursday night by Edward Thompson, fire commissioner of the City of New York and the awarding of 14 trophies following Saturday's march.

A turkey dinner will be served to the delegates to begin the Thursday night activities. This will be followed by the introduction of guests and short welcoming addresses by Supervisor George Mollenhauer, Rosendale and Mayor Gerard de Felice of the Village of Rosendale. The annual entertainment will conclude the program with refreshments being served at Rosendale Firehouse. Among the guests expected to be in attendance are Joseph Wicker, president of the Orange County Volunteer Firemen's Association; Charles M. ### Unifying Movement for State Churches in Syracuse Baptist Interim to Help $600,000 Campaign for Interchurch Center

Appointment has been announced of the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Schmitz, currently interim pastor of First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway, to serve on a full-time consultant basis for the eventual construction of the Interchurch Center in Syracuse.

Dr. Schmitz, who will conclude his interim ministry at the local church Sunday, Aug. 30, will commence his work for the center's $600,000 fund campaign in September.

The local Baptist pulpit will be filled starting Sunday, Sept. 7, by the Rev. James Braker of Potsdam, who has accepted a call to the local church.

The new Syracuse structure is to house the state headquarters of the New York State Baptist Convention and other denominations as well as the state and local Councils of Churches of offices.

Dr. Schmitz, who will be planning consultant of the center project, is currently director of endowment development for the New York State Council of Churches. He has continued in that capacity during his interim pastorate at First Baptist since October of 1963.

The Interchurch Center, which will occupy a four and one-half acre site facing East Genesee Street in Syracuse, will be the culmination of years of preparation and planning for the comprehensive, yet economical, answer to the building needs of several state and area denominational headquarters.

At present eight different denominations maintain regional or state offices in the Onondaga County city. In addition, Syracuse is the headquarters city for the New York State Council of Churches and the Syracuse Area Council of Churches. The State Synod office of the United Presbyterian Church also will be housed with these groups in the new Protestant center in the city.

The new Center also will house the Baptist State Convention office, the Methodist Area Bishop's office, the headquarters of the Central N. Y. Conference of the Methodist Church and the Area Methodist Education offices.

In addition to regular office space the Interchurch Center will contain conference rooms, a 150-seat combination chapel and assembly room, library and reading room, cafeteria for staff personnel and meetings; large workrooms for business and office machines, storage space,

No Guarantee Given On Peace in Harlem

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of a Harlem unity committee says he can't guarantee peace there in the face of Mayor Robert F. Wagner's refusal to create an independent police review board.

Unifying Movement for State Churches in Syracuse

Baptist Interim to Help $600,000 Campaign for Interchurch Center

Appointment has been announced of the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Schmitz, currently interim pastor of First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway, to serve on a full-time consultant basis for the eventual construction of the Interchurch Center in Syracuse.

Dr. Schmitz, who will conclude his interim ministry at the local church Sunday, Aug. 30, will commence his work for the center's $600,000 fund campaign in September.

The local Baptist pulpit will be filled starting Sunday, Sept. 7, by the Rev. James Braker of Potsdam, who has accepted a call to the local church.

The new Syracuse structure is to house the state headquarters of the New York State Baptist Convention and other denominations as well as the state and local Councils of Churches offices.

Dr. Schmitz, who will be planning consultant of the center project, is currently director of endowment development for the New York State Council of Churches. He has continued in that capacity during his interim pastorate at First Baptist since October of 1963.

The Interchurch Center, which will occupy a four and one-half acre site facing East Genesee Street in Syracuse, will be the culmination of years of preparation.

At present eight different denominations maintain regional offices in the Onondaga County city. In addition, Syracuse is the headquarters city for the New York State Council of Churches and the Syracuse Area Council of Churches. The State Synod office of the United Presbyterian Church also will be housed with these groups in the new Protestant center in the city.

The new center also will house the Baptist State Convention office, the Methodist Area Bishop's office, the headquarters of the Central N. Y. Conference of the Methodist Church and the Area Methodist Education offices.

In addition to regular office space the Interchurch Center will contain conference rooms, a 150-seat combination chapel and assembly room, library and reading room, cafeteria for staff personnel and meetings; large workrooms for business and office machines, storage space.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Rev. Dr. Dale C. Recker lost his sight over 15 years ago but he continued as pastor of the First Lutheran Church in Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

"We ought to do the best we can with what we have," he says. "I preached it before I lost my sight and in spite of these little difficulties I still have a purpose in life which must be associated with God's purpose."

That purpose for Dr. Recker is helping others who are blind. In September, 1963 he became secretary for the blind for the American Bible Society. Now serving 20,000 blind people throughout the country, he gives to serve ten times that many in years to come by giving them comfort and inspiration through the Bible in Braille and on records. Understanding their problems, he corresponds with many on a braillier when they seek his help.

Dr. Recker leads an active life in other respects. He has been an ardent golfer, recently took up bowling and is now organizing a bowling team for the blind in his community.

Your Life and Mine

DR. CLYDE H. SNELL

THE FLY ON THE MICROPHONE

In her book, "A Bridge for Passing," Pearl Buck tells in quite detail about the filming of her story entitled, "The Big Wave." The picture was made in Japan. During the shooting of one of the scenes a fly buzzed unnoticed around the microphone. Even though the crew, as Miss Buck says "zealously had sprayed repellent on the just and the unjust alike, still one fly had cunningly concealed himself on the microphone and buzzed enough to outsound everything else." Thus the whole scene had to be reenacted because of the innocent capers of that one lone fly which somehow had managed, all unwittingly, to remain unnoticed.

Often in life it is the little things that make all the difference between success and failure, defeat and accomplishment, life and death. A little thoughtlessness can make good neighborly relationships an impossibility. A word at longest is a tiny thing. Yet one word uttered in a fit of disgust or downright anger can lose a friend or break up a marriage. Whereas, on the other hand, one word fitly spoken may win a life-long friend or swing wide the door of opportunity upon some bright prospect of affection or business.

In the realm of character, as in the project of recording, it doesn't take much to cause almost irreparable damage. The difference lies in the fact that when they discovered what the fly had done they could react the scene and make a new recording. But when character is blemished there is no undoing; no opportunity to back up and do it over. Even though there is forgiveness, provided there is true repentance, we still, in the deepest sense have to live with our mistakes and our sins. We can begin now to rectify; but in life there is no re-recording. As Pilate put it: "What is written, is written."

This fly incident shouts at us a most important truth which we, in this age of scientific miracles, need ever to keep before us; namely, that science is not the whole answer. There are some things science cannot do. It can record anything that will accommodate by making a noise—no matter how tiny. But no way ever has been discovered to strain out the unwanted buzzing of a fly and leave only the sought-after voices. The whole scene had to be set up and gone through again by actors because that little fly hovered near the microphone and messed up the sound track.

Science can perform miracles of heart surgery; but it cannot mend a broken heart or provide inner resources of patience or courage in the face of adversity. A giant airplane roaring through the dark sky at tremendous speed can carry a grief-stricken daughter to the bedside of her dying mother; but it has no least vestige of help to offer her with which to meet the inner emergency or prepare her for the imminent loss—or to reinforce her spirit against the haunting loneliness that is ahead.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Rev. Dr. Dale C. Recker lost his sight over 15 years ago but he continued as pastor of the First Lutheran Church in Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

"We ought to do the best we can with what we have," he says. "I preached it before I lost my sight and in spite of these little difficulties I still have a purpose in life which must be associated with God's purpose."

That purpose for Dr. Recker is helping others who are blind. In September, 1963 he became secretary for the blind for the American Bible Society. Now serving 20,000 blind people throughout the country, he hopes to serve ten times that many in years to come by giving them comfort and inspiration through the Bible in Braille and on records. Understanding their problems, he corresponds with many on a braillewriter when they seek his help.

Dr. Recker leads an active life in other respects. He has been an ardent golfer, recently took up bowling and is now organizing a bowling team for the blind in his community.

Your Life and Mine

THE FLY ON THE MICROPHONE

In her book, "A Bridge for Passing," Pearl Buck tells in quite detail about the filming of her story entitled, "The Big Wave." The picture was made in Japan. During the shooting of one of the scenes a fly buzzed unnoticed around the microphone. Even though the crew, as Miss Buck says "zealously had sprayed repellent on the just and the unjust alike, still one fly had cunningly concealed himself on the microphone and buzzed enough to outsound everything else." Thus the whole scene had to be reenacted because of the innocent capers of that one fly which somehow had managed, all unwittingly, to remain unnoticed.

Often in life it is the little things that make all the difference between success and failure, defeat and accomplishment, life and death. A little thoughtlessness can make good neighbors close for vacation after this service. Both Sunday schools and churches will resume sessions Sunday, Sept. 13. Blue Mountain fair and supper Wednesday, Aug. 5 with roast beef supper served 4:30, 5:30 and 6:30 p. m. Katsbaan fair and supper Wednesday, Aug. 19 with ham supper served 5, 6 and 7 p. m.

Dear Abby . . .

Strictly For Girls!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 17. I copied something out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, and typed it up and I carry it with me. It has helped me a lot. Two of my girl friends did the same thing. You would be doing many girls a big favor if you would print it in your column. So many girls are having trouble in this line. Thank you, Abby.

"Girls need to 'prove their love' through illicit sex relations like a moose needs a hatrack. Why not 'prove your love' by sticking your head in the oven and turning on the gas? Or playing leap frog in the traffic? It's about as safe."

"Clear the cobwebs out of your head. Any fellow who asks you to 'prove your love' is trying to take you for the biggest, most gullible fool who ever walked. That 'proving' is one of the oldest and rottenest lines ever invented! Does he love you? It doesn't sound like it. Someone who loves you wants whatever is best for you. But now figure it out. He wants you to: Commit an immoral act . . . Surrender your virtue . . . Throw away your self-respect . . . Risk the loss of your precious reputation . . . And risk getting into trouble . . ."

"Does that sound as though he wants what's best for you? This is the laugh of the century. He wants what best for him: he wants a thrill he can brag about at your expense . . . Love? Who's kidding whom?"

"A guy who loves a girl would sooner cut off his right arm than hurt her. In my opinion, this self-serving s-o-and-s has proved that he doesn't love you. The predictable aftermath of 'proof' of this kind always finds Don Juan tiring of his sport. That's when he drops you, picks up his line, and goes casting elsewhere for bigger and equally silly fish."

"If he loves you, let him prove HIS love—by marching you to the ALTAR!"

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who talks about himself all the time. He doesn't even listen when someone else is talking. He just waits for them to get through so he can talk. And he doesn't ever talk about anything except himself. Otherwise he is a nice person. He is intelligent, good-looking, and takes great pride in his clothes and grooming. He would be perfect if he overcame this fault. How can I tell him about it in a nice way?

GOOD FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Tell him she is practically perfect, but his "I's" are too close together.

DEAR ABBY: At a neighborhood get-together this she-cat latched herself onto my husband. (She's married, too.) My husband didn't exactly push her away, but it was plain that she did the pursuing. Suddenly they both disappeared. It seems that she lured him into another room just to "talk." I know nothing went on, but I was miserable. When we got home I told him how hurt and humiliated I was. He said I was "narrow-minded" and that he couldn't very well have hurt her feelings by refusing to listen to her. Don't you think he owes me more than he owes her? This same feline is to be at another get-together we plan to attend. Please tell me what to do, or I might take matters into my own hands and wind up in jail. Thank you kindly.

HURT

DEAR HURT: Of course your husband "owes" you more than he owes her. But he knows that. He should have given her the straight arm instead of the soft shoulder. But if it happens again, I suggest the following simple, forthright statement: "I'M JEALOUS—so cut it out!"

Layman Develops Means to Finance Church Expansion

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "Thank you," wrote the minister, "for taking us out of the begging business."

The letter is a prized possession of A. B. Culbertson, whose germ of an idea a decade ago turned into a bustling investment business.

His idea also built hundreds of churches for booming suburbia. The problem simply was this: Persons moving to the new suburbs are burdened with mortgages, car payments, the need to put up at least a decent front.

Need for Credit

These people do not have $2,000 or $3,000 each to contribute toward building a church.

1st Presbyterian Lists Preachers For Aug. Services

While the Rev. William J. McVey, Minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf Street and Tremper Avenue is on vacation during August, the five services of Divine Worship at 9 a. m. are to have layman of the church officiating as preachers and presiders. Serving in place of Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, also on vacation, Mrs. Frederick Carpenter is to be at the organ for the first and last two Sundays of the month, while Mrs. Robert E. Lane will be piano accompanist for the service Aug. 16.

The schedule of preachers and presiders is as follows:

Aug. 2, Walter H. Caunitz, well known local real estate dealer and former president of the County Board of Realtors, who has served the church as Elder and Trustee, will speak on the spiritual phrase, "To Him That Believeth." Conducting the service will be Chester B. Diffley, former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a fuel oil dealer, who has served as church trustee and at present is a Ruling Elder. Edward Granberg, baritone, member of Senior Choir is to offer a solo.

On Aug. 9, Milton L. Reynolds, experimental engineer and mathematician in the laboratory of the IBM Corporation, Kingston plant, has chosen as the topic for his message, Religious Conservatism. Presiding will be Melburn E. Suenram, engineer with IBM who is a Ruling Elder and Clerk of Session.

On Aug. 16, Thomas P. Fickus, church school teacher, former Ruling Elder and chairman of Christian Education Committee, teacher and counselor at the Onondaga High School is to speak on the subject "A Layman's Faith." Presiding for the service will be Arthur Johns of Lincoln Park who is presently serving as church trustee.

Aug. 23, James F. McDonald, manager of radio station WKNY and an active churchman has been chosen as the topic of his message "Tapestry of Life." Conducting the service will be Howard Hornbeck, Ruling Elder and treasurer of Church Session, who is supervisory engineer with Kingston Consolidated School System. Mrs. Janet Short, soprano, a member of senior choir, will be the soloist.

Aug. 30, Chester A. Baltz Jr., active Ruling Elder, President of YMCA Board of Directors and former president of Kingston Kiwanis Club, is to speak on the topic Inaction. Ruling Elder William H. Kuehn, manager of Mutual Insurers Agency is to preside. Chester A. Baltz III will offer a trumpet solo.

These services at 9 a. m. each Sunday are sponsored by the Church Sessions.

But Culbertson knew their credit was good.

Basically, says Culbertson, "We've given respectability to church obligations."

Church members, possibly meeting in someone's home or in a school, agree to a bond program to build a church structure.

Culbertson makes the arrangements and the church members sell the bonds. Mostly they sell bonds to themselves, borrowing the money from a bank.

Funds From Basket

The bonds are secured by the church property and are paid, along with the interest, from regular Sunday contributions.

"It is a self-propelling proposition," says Culbertson, a spry, 70-year-old Baptist layman. "We just ride herd from the moment we sign up a church until the last bond is paid for."

Most savings and loan associations ignored churches' financial needs 10 years ago, Culbertson said in an interview. Bank standards were too rigorous to be met by new, struggling churches.

"Now they're bidding for church loans," Culbertson said. "We just ride herd from the moment we sign up a church until the last bond is paid for."

Dedicate New Lab At Saranac Lake

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — More than 1,000 persons, including prominent physicians and leaders in medical research, gathered here today for the dedication of the extensive new Trudeau Research Laboratories.

The two-story red-brick building, which cost about $1 million fully equipped, is intended to expedite the medical research work performed by the Trudeau Foundation Laboratories in the field of respiratory anatomy, physiology and pathology.

The building contains 20 laboratories as well as a library, animal rooms and offices and is equipped with highly specialized research apparatus.

The laboratory is an outgrowth of the Trudeau Sanatorium founded several decades ago in this Adirondack Mountain resort as a retreat for persons with tuberculosis.

In an address prepared for the dedication, Dr. Dickinson W. Richards, a Nobel Prize winning professor of medicine, appealed for time for research without the pressures for reports, justifications of expenses or for publication of findings and attendance at scientific meetings.

"All the forces of our day seem to be concentrated with fearful power to one objective: to reduce, contract, shear off and destroy the blessed entity of time," he declared. "What, in heaven's name, is all the hurry about?"

Redeemer Slates Vacation Church School Classes

Vacation Church School classes will begin at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets, Monday morning, Aug. 10 and will continue each week-day morning through Aug. 21 from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Lutheran Church in America Vacation Church School materials will be used. Centered about the theme, "Heroes of the Old Testament," the following courses will be offered: Nursery (ages 3-4) — "Jesus Is My Friend," Kindergarten — "At Home With Jesus," Primary — "God's Friends and Helpers," Junior — "God's Pioneers," and Junior High — "Daring All for God."

The mission study theme, centered on Lutheran Home Missions, will provide activity projects for historical as well as present-day mission experiences. The entire program will include Bible stories, worship, a variety of activities related to the theme, hymns, map work, discussion, and special projects which will provide creative experiences for the students.

Registration for the Vacation Church School may be made in person at Redeemer Lutheran Church on Sunday, Aug. 2 or by phone by calling the church office. No registrations will be accepted after Aug. 3 unless there is a cancellation.

Hollywood News, Views

By ROB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When Gracie retired, I went to work," says George Burns, 68, and working harder than a beetle. Burns had just returned from five weeks in Nevada where he regaled the dice throwers with songs and patter. He reported to Warner Bros. to begin his starring role in "Wendy and Me," a television series which he also is producing and helping to write.

Doing What He Loves

In addition, he is producing and supervising the scripts of another Warner series, "No Time for Sergeants." And he continued overseeing "Mister Ed," which he helped create. If he is overworked, he doesn't show it.

"I'm doing what I love to do," Burns said. "Retire? Never. I was retired during all those years I worked with Gracie. It's no wonder she wanted to quit; she did all the work. If we had 35 pages of dialogue, she had to memorize 25 pages of it. All I did was say, 'Tell me about your brother,' and that would start her off."

Burns told how he found a new home at Warner Bros. "The studio had Connie Stevens, whom I greatly admired, and I had the idea for a series, which Warner's liked. The story has me, George Burns, buying an apartment building to give me an audience for my singing. One of the tenants is Connie, who plays an airlines stewardess. I weave in and out of the stories, talk to the audience and sing a song now and then."

"J. L. Warner was so pleased with how 'Wendy and Me' turned out that he asked me to take over 'No Time for Sergeants' as well."

He's Stagestruck

Is it possible that George is stagestruck?

"Sure, I am," he said. "But that's true of all of us who have done well in the business; we all love to work. Jack Benny is that way. So is Bob Hope. Milton Berle? Why, all you have to do is open a refrigerator door and the light causes him to go into 20 minutes of jokes."

Wagner Will Be Johnson's Guest For Just a Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, one of those who hasn't been killed off as a Democratic vice presidential possibility, is coming to the White House today to be an overnight guest of President and Mrs. Johnson.

While it would seem that politics is a subject that can scarcely escape discussion, White House press secretary George Reedy said, "It's not the purpose of the visit. It's just a visit."

He said that after the death of Mrs. Wagner March 2, the President and Mrs. Johnson invited the mayor to come to Washington for a weekend whenever it was convenient and to bring his sons, Duncan and Robert Jr.

Reedy did not rule out a discussion of New York problems — rioting in Harlem has been a major one — or some political talk.

While Johnson said Thursday he has eliminated members of his Cabinet — and eight or 10 others — from consideration for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, associates say he has left the door open to some senators, House members, governors and mayors.

But the way most Democrats see it, regardless of how open the White House says the list may be, Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota still appear to be the top possibilities as Johnson's running mate.

Dear Abby . . . Strictly For Girls!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 17. I copied something out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, and typed it up and I carry it with me. It has helped me a lot. Two of my girl friends did the same thing. You would be doing many girls a big favor if you would print it in your column. So many girls are having trouble in this line. Thank you, Abby.

"Girls need to 'prove their love' through illicit sex relations like a moose needs a hatrack. Why not 'prove your love' by sticking your head in the oven and turning on the gas? Or playing leap frog in the traffic? It's about as safe."

"Clear the cobwebs out of your head. Any fellow who asks you to 'prove your love' is trying to take you for the biggest, most gullible fool who ever walked. That 'proving' bit is one of the oldest and rottenest lines ever invented! Does he love you? It doesn't sound like it. Someone who loves you wants whatever is best for you. But now figure it out. He wants you to: Commit an immoral act . . .

Surrender your virtue . . . Throw away your self-respect . . . Risk the loss of your precious reputation . . . And risk getting into trouble . . .

"Does that sound as though he wants what's best for you? This is the laugh of the century. He wants what best for him: he wants a thrill he can brag about at your expense . . . Love? Who's kidding whom?"

"A guy who loves a girl would sooner cut off his right arm than hurt her. In my opinion, this self-serving so-and-so has proved that he doesn't love you. The predictable aftermath of 'proof' of this kind always finds Don Juan tiring of his sport. That's when he drops you, picks up his line, and goes casting elsewhere for bigger and equally silly fish."

"If he loves you, let him prove HIS love—by marching you to the ALTAR!"

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who talks about himself all the time. He doesn't even listen when someone else is talking. He just waits for them to get through so he can talk. And he doesn't ever talk about anything except himself. Otherwise he is a nice person. He is intelligent, good-looking, and takes great pride in his clothes and grooming. He would be perfect if he overcame this fault. How can I tell him about it in a nice way?

GOOD FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Tell him he is practically perfect, but his "I's" are too close together.

DEAR ABBY: At a neighborhood get-together this she-cat latched herself onto my husband. (She's married, too.) My husband didn't exactly push her away, but it was plain that she did the pursuing. Suddenly they both disappeared. It seems that she lured him into another room just to "talk." I know nothing went on, but I was miserable. When we got home I told him how hurt and humiliated I was. He said I was "narrow-minded" and that he couldn't very well have hurt her feelings by refusing to listen to her. Don't you think he owes me more than he owes her? This same fellow is to be at another get-together we plan to attend. Please tell me what to do, or I might take matters into my own hands and wind up in jail. Thank you kindly.

HURT

DEAR HURT: Of course your husband "owes" you more than he owes her. But he knows that. He should have given her the straight arm instead of the soft shoulder. But if it happens again, I suggest the following simple, forthright statement: "I'M JEALOUS—so cut it out!"

Layman Develops Means to Finance Church Expansion

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —

"Thank you," wrote the minister, "for taking us out of the begging business."

The letter is a prized possession of A. B. Culbertson, whose germ of an idea a decade ago turned into a bustling investment business.

His idea also built hundreds of churches for booming suburbia. The problem simply was this: Persons moving to the new suburbs are burdened with mortgages, car payments, the need to put up at least a decent front.

Need for Credit
These people do not have $2,000 or $3,000 each to contribute toward building a church.

THE FARM REVOLUTION

There is little doubt that we have farm surpluses mainly because of a basic equation: Fewer farmers are producing more than ever on fewer farms. The amount of land devoted to agriculture declines every year as our urban society expands. The number of farmers also goes down every year. Yet the production of food and fiber keeps increasing faster than the demand for these commodities.

Crop output rises because of a combination of such factors as improved farm machinery; better fertilizers, weed controllers and pesticides; more productive plant strains; better methods. There has been a technological revolution on the farm.

This revolution's impact on crop production is better known than its effect on animal husbandry. The extent of that effect can be illustrated by considering what has happened in the production of those farm staples, chicken and milk.

In 1915 we had 23.7 million dairy cows; today there are 18 million. Yet milk output this year is expected to be five per cent above that of 1945. Today's average production is 7,500 per cow, compared with 4,800 in 1945.

The number of farms producing chickens is about half what it was a decade ago, but today's farms are marketing a record number of birds. Though the farmer's price for broilers has dropped about 10 cents a pound in that decade, greater efficiency and mass production assure profits.

These things are mentioned simply to underscore a fact that sometimes escapes the attention it deserves. This is that agriculture, the most fundamental of human enterprises, is undergoing revolutionary change. No man can consider himself informed unless he knows something of this change.

DISTURBED YOUTH

A 17-year-old youth, object of a 51-hour search by more than 250 sheriff's men, walked unhurt into the ranger station atop Mt. Bigelow in the rugged Catalinas near Tucson, Ariz., one recent night and remarked that he "didn't want to do any more hiking for a while." His feat of survival was a real one, yet he will get little praise for it.

One reason is that the boy apparently had tried to talk his rescuers' efforts. (At one time he hid out when a helicopter spotted him and sought to direct searchers to him. Another reason is the fact that he is an inmate of the Arizona Children's Colony for retarded youngsters. The trouble he caused draws attention to some saddening facts not widely known.

The National Institute for Mental Health has found that almost a third of a million youngsters up to age 17 receive care in out-patient psychiatric clinics in the United States. Two-thirds of these are 14 and under, and three times as many in that age bracket are being admitted to mental hospitals annually as was the case 10 years ago. Also, the suicide rate among teenagers is up sharply.

An intensive study is adding new evidence that unhappy home life and disturbed family relationships are major reasons why "disturbed," mentally ill and delinquent teen-agers get that way. The experts' study, still in progress, points likewise to poverty, with its attendant under-nourishment and degradation, as a major underlying cause of mental illness and delinquency. The problem of disturbed youth is most serious and widespread; it is complex both as to causes and effects. It will yield only to a many-sided approach that takes into consideration both the psychological and economic factors involved.

POLLUTION ECONOMICS

There is some tendency among so-called practical minded folk to shrug off talk of air pollution as much ado about not much. Those who react this way are inclined to suggest that a) air pollution is greatly exaggerated as a threat to the general wel-

'These Days'

KHRUSHCHEV WANTS INDUSTRIAL SERFS

When a person looks for a job in the West, it is undeniably helpful if he has good references. But he is not compelled to testify against himself when he is being interviewed by a personnel department. Freedom to move from job to job, and to make the best showing one can in applying for work, is one of the accepted rights of man.

Even in Soviet Russia the government has been wary of trying to turn men into industrial serfs, anchored to lathe or workbench as medieval peasants were to the soil. Despite the police registration and the labor booklet that every Soviet worker is compelled to carry about, extreme job mobility has been permitted under Communism. If a man is worried about revelations of poor performance written in his labor booklet, all he has to do is "lose" it. The fine for such a loss has been a mere five kopecks. The worker gets a new booklet, with no references to the things which he wishes forgotten.

What has been the result of easy labor turnover in Russia? The evidence is accumulating that it is producing a state of inefficiency that goes far beyond the troubles which capitalist industrial establishments have with their working forces. The evidence is ordinarily expressed in an indirect way. For example, letters have been appearing in the columns of "Izvestia" commending the "purity" and "holiness" of labor and asking that the "work biography" of a man be regarded as a sacred document. There should, so some of the letter writers say, be duplicate copies of every workbook on file with personnel departments. Another writer asks that "poets . . . write good verses about the work passport." Since the editors of "Izvestia" invited correspondence about the workbook, the agitation has obviously had official sanction, if not connivance.

To cap the agitation, Nikita Khrushchev has himself published in "Pravda" a proposed model of a new labor passport, designed to replace both the existing police registration forms and the old labor booklets. Khrushchev has called the old booklets "insufficiently complete." The new passport will, according to Khrushchev, "reflect a person's working life like a mirror," showing "how he invests his labor in the building of Communism." Presumably there would be stern penalties for losing a passport, and duplicates would be kept on file in case a man hoped even under penalty to destroy his own background.

The reason why the "purity" and "holiness" of labor is being played up in the letter columns is that work, in the Soviet Union today, is not regarded by most people as in the least bit "sacred." Fedir S. Hayenko, a former Soviet industrial planner, has recently assembled startling evidence of vast labor migrations inside Russia. Since workers, in Russia, are forbidden the right to strike, the only weapon of protest that is available to a man is to quit his job. Moreover, welfare rights are gifts of the State, not gifts of any individual employer, so that one does not necessarily lose "security" by a lifetime of job-hopping.

Job-hopping is stimulated by the fact that wages and working conditions are by no means uniform throughout the Soviet economy. There was recently a mass exodus of workers from construction projects in Moscow because fields looked greener elsewhere. At one plant in Ryazan a hundred people who have diplomas qualifying them as agronomists and veterinarians are working as store-keepers and janitors. These people have quit the countryside because they were offered more rubles for clerking than they could earn at their own specialties. Five thousand women have left the Kharkov tractor plant during the past five years because of lack of places to park their children for the day. Such instances could be multiplied indefinitely.

The losses in man-hours in Russia because of labor turnover come to some one hundred million man-days a year, according to the figures which Fedir Hayenko has collected for the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich. The total annual turnover of labor is 12.3 per cent. This has resulted in the loss of a gross output of three billion rubles a year.

And so Comrade Nikita Khrushchev is about to hang a compulsory "labor biography" around every man's neck in Russia, making it dangerous to change one's occupation without a reason that is wholly satisfactory to the State.

The Mature Parent Summer's for Parents, Too

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Last summer, a couple I know sent their 8-year-old daughter to camp for the first time. She didn't like it. After three weeks she telephoned an appeal to her parents to come and take her home. They drove to the camp the following weekend to do this, but were deflected by its lady director. Warned that what their child needed was not relief from what she didn't like but adjustment to it, they said goodbye to their weeping youngster, left her to adjust and drove home without her.

As a consequence, they cancelled the Mexican tour they had planned in order to remain in touch with their camper. They jumped every time the telephone rang. The theme of their conversation became, "We're doing the right thing, aren't we?" In short, they spent a miserable summer.

In this season of children's sometimes losing struggle to adjust to summer camps I want to remind fathers and mothers that they are entitled to end the struggle when they impose too much anxiety and strain upon us. We have our own need for summertime relaxation to consider, as well as children's adjustments. I am aware that this is a revolutionary idea. We are so imbued with "parents don't matter" propaganda that it's extremely difficult to realize we may need a relaxed summer even more than Billy may need adjustment. The notion that we must endure persistent anxiety over campers in order to provide them with adjustment is the same self-sacrificing notion that we must endure a toothache in order to use the dental-bill money to redecorate Sally's bedroom.

It's the same old parental passion for self-sacrifice. As our toothache punishes us for our refusal to visit the dentist, our anxious summer punishes us for our failure in self-consideration. In both cases, our persisting discomfort informs us that we've bitten off more heroism than we are able to chew.

We have our right to a summer's relief from anxiety and tension after the year's hard work. If persistent worry over our unhappy camper is permitted to steal its joy from us, it is we, not the camper, who needs adjustment to better self-respect.

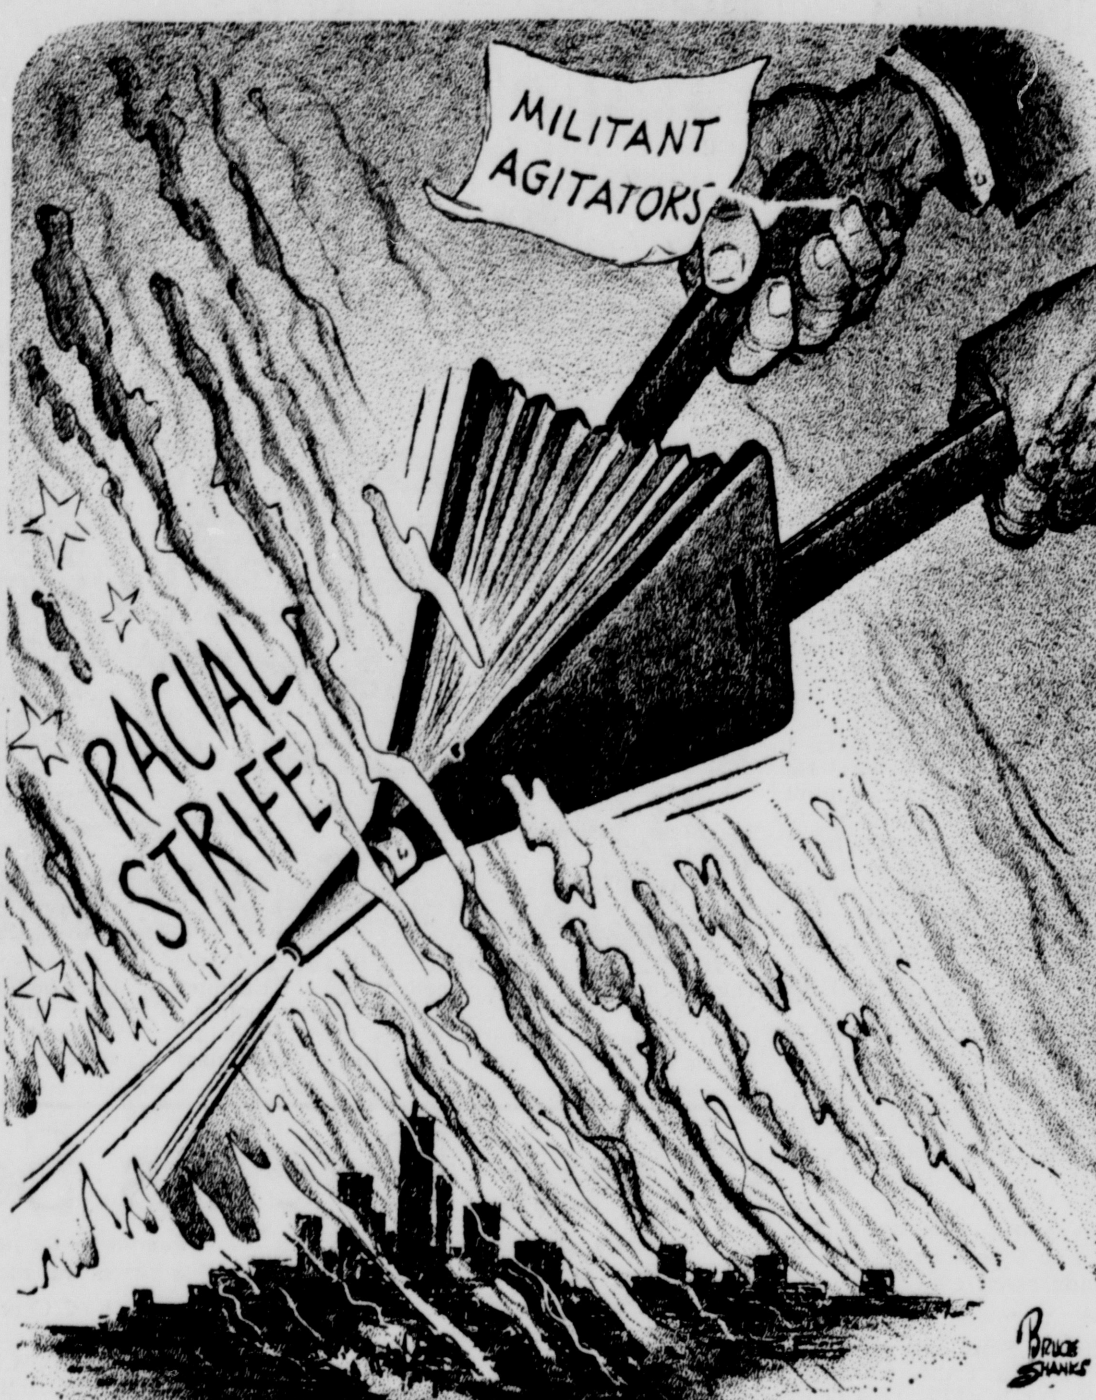

(All rights reserved Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

fare, and b) little can be done about it, so why worry?

The fact is that, as a matter of practical economics if for no other reason, air pollution cannot be shrugged off. This is highlighted in the annual report of New York's Department of Air Pollution Control. It notes that the average per capita cost of dirty air in New York City—home cleaning expenses, medical bills, and so forth—is $65 a year. That compares with the 10 cents per capita or less that most cities spend on curbing air pollution.

President Johnson sees a new era of co-operation in the nation. Senator Goldwater can't see this—not even in the Republican party.

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Despite Khrushchev's recent chest thumping, U.S. government Soviet analysts have quietly assured the White House that the Soviet Union is not likely to take on any major adventures in the ticklish months between now and election day.

Says one expert privately, "We're convinced Khrushchev's even going to go easy on the Cuba situation until after November." These men who specialize in predicting what Khrushchev will do next expect him to hedge and haw in Southeastern Asia, but end up doing nothing for now. Says one: "He'll keep telling the United States to get out of South Viet Nam. But we think he'd be somewhat embarrassed if we did get out. It would be too much of a gain for Red China. He wants things kept balanced in Laos with neither side winning."

Little action is expected in Berlin or the Middle East. THERE ARE SIGNS, State Department men claim, that Khrushchev is worried and that he would like to influence the U.S. presidential election. But he had his fingers burned back in 1952 when Adlai Stevenson ran against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Bulganin spoke out for Stevenson. The prize embarrassed, helped the Eisenhower campaign. A Khrushchev-instigated, hotter cold war during the election campaign would bring demands from the U.S. public for a stronger policy against the Soviet Union. It would be impossible for either candidate to take any stand that appeared soft.

This puts Khrushchev on the spot for now. Things may not heat up much after the election, U.S. analysts think Khrushchev must do something about Cuba because Castro's regime is becoming too much of an economic drain. The Soviet Union needs the goods and the funds it's spending on Cuba for higher-priority projects at home.

For international political reasons, the Soviet Union can't just walk out and leave Cuba. Khrushchev's problem is to find a solution that will embarrass the United States. U.S. diplomats think Khrushchev has plans in mind for splitting President Charles de Gaulle of France and the United States farther apart.

They expect Khrushchev sooner or later to find some formula for meddling with greater vigor in South Viet Nam.

THE ANALYSTS EXPECT these Khrushchev plots to be troublesome. They don't expect them to lead to crises comparable to the Cuban missile showdown, the Berlin Wall build-up, the Berlin airlift or to the Korean War.

As they see it, Khrushchev is faced with greater shortages at home. Soviet productivity is increasing at a slower rate. Manufacturing and agriculture are not meeting their goals. Influential customers of the privileged classes are demanding more.

The Russian military is protesting the cutbacks in military manpower. The Kremlin is in the midst of a quiet, strong power struggle in the ruling Presidium. Russia is continuing to strengthen itself, but it's running into administrative problems Khrushchev is finding hard to cope with.

As one U.S. official puts it: "Even without the election, it's unlikely Khrushchev would do anything now to stir up a crisis."

Shokan

SHOKAN—Callers in the hub of the reservoir country last Thursday included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose and Mr. and Mrs. James Murray of the Hyde Park area.

Also in town Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corbett, Brookton, and Anna Aitkin of the Silver Hollow bungalow colony near Chichester.

Having a birthday last July 25 was Edward Leyder, Shokan resident for several years who now makes his home at Quarryville.

James Hasenflue, Stone Ridge antique collector, was numbered among the many callers at the local museum last Sunday.

Bruce Watson, Old State Road young man, reportedly will leave soon for Fort Dix, N. J., to begin a six weeks training course with National Guard units. He has been employed at Byrnes Monuments for several years.

Mrs. Richard Adickes has returned from a visit of two weeks with relatives in the Rosendale area.

The Delaware County Chamber of Commerce reportedly is not pleased with the New York State's proposed plans to discontinue freight service between Bloombville and Oneonta, and has filed a petition against it with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Old Timers can recall the days when Bloombville was the western terminus of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad and people from Kingston to the mountains got a big kick out of periodical, Sunday school excursions for a ride to the end of the one time Ulster and Delaware line.

Callers in the village center included Mr. and Mrs. Felix Sierra of Astoria, L. I. The couple were annual summer visitors to Shokan during the years when their relatives, the Charles Rodriguez family owned and occupied the one time Daniel Sampson place in the Coons District of Shokan.

Looking Backward in Reservoir Country: August, 1935. John A. Lennox, former Glenford young man, is acclaimed dean of New York State's 4-H Club agents. Lennox who is in charge of Club extension in Delaware County, has completed 20 years of work in his field, and the county with a membership of 1,412 has led the state the past two years. . . . Conrad Hyatt, North Bergen, N. J. youth, was a weekend guest at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Fred Adst. . . . Stanley Jones, Ashokan, preached a most inspiring sermon at the Glenford M. E. Church last Sunday. Mrs. Robert K. Story and daughter, Mabel Lasher are again at their Winchell Mountain summer home, Edna Wanda Lodge. . . . Virginia Bell, Hurley, spent the weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell, and aunts Chloe Bell and Mrs. Frank Sharwell.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Mr. William Guldys of 29 Rogers Street, Kingston, brought me a charming, colorful illustrated booklet some 148 pages which The Freeman printed back in 1915. It is called "The Catskill Mountains — the most picturesque mountain region on the globe — reached by the Ulster and Delaware Railroad."

On the front cover are several colorful pictures of "the haunts of Rip Van Winkle." The large folded map is intact in the book. I see it was copyrighted in 1894 by N. A. Sims, general passenger agent of the Ulster and Delaware R.R. and was reissued in 1915. Mr. Guldys of the Freeman staff had two other books like this of different years.

The author of this book dwells on the magnificence of the Catskill Mountains and the running brooks and the clean little villages. That was in 1915 and now on the way to the Woodstock Library Fair, and then back to Kingston and stopping at the Stone Ridge Fair, which for some unknown reason to me, for the first time, as I can remember was held on the same day. The weather was in the 70's, and although the season has been very dry, the fields and trees were green, and the Black-Eyed Susans, Queen Anne's lace, and daisies covered the fields and roadsides. The Queen's lace seemed even larger than ever, and tiger lilies here and there. I feel the new modern road to Woodstock detracts from the beauty of the country-

There is little doubt that we have farm surpluses mainly because of a basic equation: Fewer farmers are producing more than ever on fewer farms. The amount of land devoted to agriculture declines every year as our urban society expands. The number of farmers also goes down every year. Yet the production of food and fiber keeps increasing faster than the demand for these commodities.

Crop output rises because of a combination of such factors as improved farm machinery; better fertilizers, weed controllers and pesticides; more productive plant strains; better methods. There has been a technological revolution on the farm.

This revolution's impact on crop production is better known than its effect on animal husbandry. The extent of that effect can be illustrated by considering what has happened in the production of those farm staples, chicken and milk.

In 1915 we had 23.7 million dairy cows; today there are 18 million. Yet milk output this year is expected to be five per cent above that of 1945. Today's average production is 7,500 per cow, compared with 4,800 in 1945.

The number of farms producing chickens is about half what it was a decade ago, but today's farms are marketing a record number of birds. Though the farmer's price for broilers has dropped about 10 cents a pound in that decade, greater efficiency and mass production assure profits.

These things are mentioned simply to underscore a fact that sometimes escapes the attention it deserves. This is that agriculture, the most fundamental of human enterprises, is undergoing revolutionary change. No man can consider himself informed unless he knows something of this change.

DISTURBED YOUTH

A 17-year-old youth, object of a 51-hour search by more than 250 sheriff's men, walked unhurt into the ranger station atop Mt. Bigelow in the rugged Catalinas near Tucson, Ariz., one recent night and remarked that he "didn't want to do any more hiking for a while." His feat of survival was a real one, yet he will get little praise for it.

One reason is that the boy apparently had tried to balk his rescuers' efforts. (At one time he hid out when a helicopter spotted him and sought to direct searchers to him. Another reason is the fact that he is an inmate of the Arizona Children's Colony for retarded youngsters. The trouble he caused draws attention to some saddening facts not widely known.

The National Institute for Mental Health has found that almost a third of a million youngsters up to age 17 receive care in out-patient psychiatric clinics in the United States. Two-thirds of these are 14 and under, and three times as many in that age bracket are being admitted to mental hospitals annually as was the case 10 years ago. Also, the suicide rate among teenagers is up sharply.

An intensive study is adding new evidence that unhappy home life and disturbed family relationships are major reasons why "disturbed," mentally ill and delinquent teenagers get that way. The experts' study, still in progress, points likewise to poverty, with its attendant under-nourishment and degradation, as a major underlying cause of mental illness and delinquency.

The problem of disturbed youth is most serious and widespread; it is complex both as to causes and effects. It will yield only to a many-sided approach that takes into consideration both the psychological and economic factors involved.

POLLUTION ECONOMICS

There is some tendency among so-called practical minded folk to shrug off talk of air pollution as much ado about not much. Those who react this way are inclined to suggest that a) air pollution is greatly exaggerated as a threat to the general wel-

KHRUSHCHEV WANTS INDUSTRIAL SERFS

When a person looks for a job in the West, it is undeniably helpful if he has good references. But he is not compelled to testify against himself when he is being interviewed by a personnel department. Freedom to move from job to job, and to make the best showing one can in applying for work, is one of the accepted rights of man.

Even in Soviet Russia the government has been wary of trying to turn men into industrial serfs, anchored to lathe or workbench as medieval peasants were to the soil. Despite the police registration and the labor booklet that every Soviet worker is compelled to carry about, extreme job mobility has been permitted under Communism. If a man is worried about revelations of poor performance written in his labor booklet, all he has to do is "lose" it. The fine for such a loss has been a mere five kopecks. The worker gets a new booklet, with no references to the things which he wishes forgotten.

What has been the result of easy labor turnover in Russia? The evidence is accumulating that it is producing a state of inefficiency that goes far beyond the troubles which capitalist industrial establishments have with their working forces. The evidence is ordinarily expressed in an indirect way. For example, letters have been appearing in the columns of "Izvestia" commending the "purity" and "holiness" of labor and asking that the "work biography" of a man be regarded as a sacred document. There should, so some of the letter writers say, be duplicate copies of every workbook on file with personnel departments. Another writer asks that "poets" write good verses about the work passport. "Since the editors of 'Izvestia' invited correspondence about the workbook, the agitation has obviously had official sanction, if not connivance.

To cap the agitation, Nikita Khrushchev has himself published in "Pravda" a proposed model of a new labor passport, designed to replace both the existing police registration forms and the old labor booklets. Khrushchev has called the old booklets "insufficiently complete." The new passport will, according to Khrushchev, "reflect a person's working life like a mirror," showing "how he invests his labor in the building of Communism." Presumably there would be stern penalties for losing a passport, and duplicates would be kept on file in case a man hoped even under penalty to destroy his own background.

The reason why the "purity" and "holiness" of labor is being played up in the letter columns is that work, in the Soviet Union today, is not regarded by most people as in the least bit "sacred." Fedir S. Hayenko, a former Soviet industrial planner, has recently assembled startling evidence of vast labor migrations inside Russia. Since workers, in Russia, are forbidden the right to strike, the only weapon of protest that is available to a man is to quit his job. Moreover, welfare rights are gifts of the State, not gifts of any individual employer, so that one does not necessarily lose "security" by a lifetime of job-hopping.

Job-hopping is stimulated by the fact that wages and working conditions are by no means uniform throughout the Soviet economy. There was recently a mass exodus of workers from construction projects in Moscow because fields looked greener elsewhere. At one plant in Ryazan a hundred people who have diplomas qualifying them as agronomists and veterinarians are working as storekeepers and janitors. These people have quit the countryside because they were offered more rubles for clerking than they could earn at their own specialties. Five thousand women have left the Kharkov tractor plant during the past five years because of lack of places to park their children for the day. Such instances could be multiplied indefinitely.

The losses in man-hours in Russia because of labor turnover come to some one hundred million man-days a year, according to the figures which Fedir Hayenko has collected for the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich. The total annual turnover of labor is 12.3 per cent. This has resulted in the loss of a gross output of three billion rubles a year.

And so Comrade Nikita Khrushchev is about to hang a compulsory "labor biography" around every man's neck in Russia, making it dangerous to change one's occupation without a reason that is wholly satisfactory to the State.

The Mature Parent

Summer's for Parents, Too

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Last summer, a couple I know sent their 8-year-old daughter to camp for the first time. She didn't like it. After three weeks she telephoned an appeal to her parents to come and take her home. They drove to the camp the following weekend to do this, but were deflected by its lady director. Warned that what their child needed was not relief from what she didn't like but adjustment to it, they said goodbye to their weeping youngster, left her to adjust and drove home without her.

As a consequence, they cancelled the Mexican tour they had planned in order to remain in touch with their camper. They jumped every time the telephone rang. The theme of their conversation became, "We're doing the right thing, aren't we?" In short, they spent a miserable summer.

In this season of children's sometimes losing struggles to adjust to summer camps I want to remind fathers and mothers that they are entitled to end the struggles when they impose too much anxiety and strain upon us. We have our own need for summertime relaxation to consider, as well as children's adjustments.

I am aware that this is a revolutionary idea. We are so inured with "parents don't matter" propaganda that it's extremely difficult to realize we may need a relaxed summer, even more than Billy may need adjustment. The notion that we must endure persistent anxiety over campers in order to provide them with adjustment is the same self-martyring notion that we must endure a toothache in order to use the dental-bill money to redecorate Sally's bedroom.

It's the same old parental passion for self-sacrifice. As our toothache punishes us for our refusal to visit the dentist, our anxious summer punishes us for our failure in self-consideration. In both cases, our persisting discomfort informs us that we've bitten off more heroism than we are able to chew.

We have our right to a summer's relief from anxiety and tension after the year's hard work. If persistent worry over our unhappy camper is permitted to steal its joy from us, it is we, not the camper, who needs adjustment to better self-respect.

fare, and b) little can be done about it, so why worry?

The fact is that, as a matter of practical economics if for no other reason, air pollution cannot be shrugged off. This is highlighted in the annual report of New York's Department of Air Pollution Control. It notes that the average per capita cost of dirty air in New York City—home cleaning expenses, medical bills, and so forth—is $65 a year. That compares with the 10 cents per capita or less that most cities spend on curbing air pollution.

President Johnson sees a new era of co-operation in the nation. Senator Goldwater can't see this—not even in the Republican party.

BY RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Despite Khrushchev's recent chest thumping, U.S. government Soviet analysts have quietly assured the White House that the Soviet Union is not likely to take on any major adventures in the ticklish months between now and election day.

Says one expert privately, "We're convinced Khrushchev's even going to go easy on the Cuba situation until after November." These men who specialize in predicting what Khrushchev will do next expect him to hedge and haw in Southeastern Asia, but end up doing nothing for now. Says one: "He'll keep telling the United States to get out of South Viet Nam. But we think he'd be somewhat embarrassed if we did get out. It would be too much of a gain for Red China. He wants things kept balanced in Laos with neither side winning."

Little action is expected in Berlin or the Middle East. THERE ARE SIGNS, State Department men claim, that Khrushchev is worried and that he would like to influence the U.S. presidential election. But he had his fingers burned back in 1952 when Adlai Stevenson ran against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Bulganin spoke out for Stevenson. The praise boom-eranged, helped the Eisenhower campaign. A Khrushchev-instigated, hotter cold war during the election campaign would bring demands from the U.S. public for a stronger policy against the Soviet Union. It would be impossible for either candidate to take any stand that appeared soft. This puts Khrushchev on the spot for now. Things may not heat up much after the election, U.S. analysts think Khrushchev must do something about Cuba because Castro's regime is becoming too much of an economic drain. The Soviet Union needs the goods and the funds it's spending on Cuba for higher-priority projects at home.

For international political reasons, the Soviet Union can't just walk out and leave Cuba. Khrushchev's problem is to find a solution that will embarrass the United States. U.S. diplomats think Khrushchev has plans in mind for splitting President Charles de Gaulle of France and the United States further apart.

They expect Khrushchev sooner or later to find some formula for meddling with greater vigor in South Viet Nam. THE ANALYSTS EXPECT these Khrushchev plots to be troublesome. They don't expect them to lead to crises comparable to the Cuban missile showdown, the Berlin Wall build-up, the Berlin airlift or to the Korean War.

As they see it, Khrushchev is faced with greater shortages at home. Soviet productivity is increasing at a slower rate. Manufacturing and agriculture are not meeting their goals. Influential customers of the privileged classes are demanding more.

The Russian military is protesting the cutbacks in military manpower. The Kremlin is in the midst of a quiet, strong power struggle in the ruling Presidium.

Russia is continuing to strengthen itself, but it's running into administrative problems Khrushchev is finding hard to cope with.

As one U.S. official puts it: "Even without the election, it's unlikely Khrushchev would do anything now to stir up a crisis."

Shokan

SHOKAN—Callers in the hub of the reservoir country last Thursday included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose and Mr. and Mrs. James Murray of the Hyde Park area.

Also in town Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corbett, Brooklyn, and Anna Aitkin of the Silver Hollow bungalow colony near Chichester.

Having a birthday last July 25 was Edward Leyder, Shokan resident for several years who now makes his home at Quarryville.

James Hasenflue, Stone Ridge antique collector, was numbered among the many callers at the local museum last Sunday.

Bruce Watson, Old State Road young man, reportedly will leave soon for Fort Dix, N. J., to begin a six weeks training course with National Guard units. He has been employed at Byrnes Monuments for several years.

Mrs. Richard Adickes has returned from a visit of two weeks with relatives in the Rosendale area.

The Delaware County Chamber of Commerce reportedly is not pleased with the New York Central's proposed plans to discontinue freight service between Bloomsburg and Oneonta, and has filed a petition against it with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Old Timers can recall the days when Bloomsburg was the western terminus of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad and people from Kingston to the mountains got a big kick out of the one time Ulster and Delaware line.

Callers in the village center included Mr. and Mrs. Felix Sierra of Astoria, L. I. The couple were annual summer visitors to Shokan during the years when their relatives, the Charles Rodriguez family owned and occupied the one time Daniel Sampson place in the Coons District of Shokan.

Looking Backward in Reservoir Country: August, 1939 — John A. Lennox, former Glenford young man, is acclaimed dean of New York State's 4-H Club agents. Lennox who is in charge of Club extension in Delaware County, has completed 20 years of work in his field, and the county with a membership of 1,412 has led the state the past two years. Conrad Hyatt, North Bergen, N. J. youth, was a weekend guest at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Fred Adsit. Stanley Jones, Ashokan, preached a most inspiring sermon at the Glenford M. E. Church last Sunday. Mrs. Robert K. Story and daughter, Mabel Lasher are again at their Winchell Mountain summer home, Edna Wanda Lodge. Virginia Bell, Hurley, spent the weekend with her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell, and aunts Chloe Bell and Mrs. Frank Sharwell.

A—It is the study of the relationship of weather and climate to agriculture.

Do You Remember "Kaat" by Sophie Miller

Mr. William Gully of 29 Rogers Street, Kingston, brought me a charming, colorful illustrated booklet some 148 pages which The Freeman printed back in 1915. It is called "The Catskill Mountains—the most picturesque mountain region on the globe—reached by the Ulster and Delaware Railroad."

On the front cover are several colorful pictures of "the haunts of Rip Van Winkle." The large folded map is intact in the book. I see it was copyrighted in 1894 by N. A. Sims, general passenger agent of the Ulster and Delaware R.R. and was reissued in 1915. Mr. Gully of the Freeman staff had two other books like this of different years.

The author of this book dwells on the magnificence of the Catskill Mountains and the running brooks and the clean little villages. That was in 1915 and now on the way to the Woodstock Library Fair, and then back to Kingston and stopping at the Stone Ridge Fair, which for some unknown reason to me, for the first time, as I can remember was held on the same day. The weather was in the 70's, and although the season has been very dry, the fields and trees were green, and the Black-Eyed Susans, Queen's Anne's lace, and daisies covered the fields and roadsides. The Queen's lace seemed even larger than ever, and tiger lilies here and there. I feel the new modern road to Woodstock detracts from the beauty of the country-

Viet Cong Attacks Close to Saigon

VINH LOC, Vit Nam — Communist Viet Cong forces struck boldly within three miles of Saigon today in the closest heavy engagement to the capital in the history of the guerrilla war.

Only paddfields separated suburban Vinh Loc from the Saigon Airport three miles away as an estimated battalion of Viet Cong attacked with heavy mortar fire. The Communist guerrillas got as close to Saigon as possible without actually entering the suburbs.

Spot Tracer Bullets
The roar of exploding shells resounded throughout the city, touching off fears of an attempt to overthrow the regime of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

American airmen based at the airport said buildings there shook under the barrage and tracer bullets could be seen. Newsmen found three Viet Cong bodies strewn in the market place in front of a government propaganda sign showing Red China's Mao Tse-tung and Soviet Premier Khrushchev strangling a Vietnamese peasant with a rope.

The small civil guard outpost

at Vinh Loc had been smashed by mortar shells and recoilless rifles.

Casualties Light
Casualties were light in the fight that began around 1 a.m. and lasted intermittently until daylight.

Bullets flew around civilian houses and wounded three persons. One civil guard defender was killed and three others wounded.

The significance of the battle was that it was fought so close to the city. The Viet Cong side-stepped a dozen other forts deeper in the countryside to strike there.

"Maybe they are getting in practice for an attack on the city," one Vietnamese officer said.

In another development Khanh repudiated Friday his "back to the North" policy statements, apparently bowing to U.S. diplomatic pressure.

Khanh said the South Vietnamese people "can no longer tolerate the inhuman massacre of their fellow citizens by the Communists," but added that his policy "does not for the moment mean we must send our troops to strike North Viet Nam."

Britain, Soviet Agree to Search For Nuclear Check

MOSCOW (AP) — Britain and the Soviet Union agreed today to work for an international treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons, Tass said.

The Soviet news agency published a joint Soviet-British communiqué at the end of a visit to Moscow by Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler of Britain.

Butler had come to Moscow in search of an agreement on measures to follow up the 1963 Moscow treaty banning nuclear tests everywhere but under ground.

The Tass summary of the communiqué, based on talks between Butler and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromiko as well as Premier Khrushchev said the Soviet Union and Britain "are in accord that an achievement of an agreement on the nonproliferation of nuclear arms and the conclusion for this purpose of an appropriate international treaty would be in the interests of peace."

11 Drivers Pay $180 Court Fines

Eleven motorists paid $180 in fines today in City Court when they admitted various traffic charges.

Fined $15 each when they admitted speeding charges, were: Helen Saxton, 30, of Box 400, RD 4; Bill Leudeke, 16, of New Paltz; John E. Schultz, 63, of Box 131, Tilton; Christos Larios, 27, of Hilltop Drive; Nicholas Morris, 20, of 3 Cedar Street; Kurt Herrman, 32, of 415 Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie; Tracy M. Gilmore, 38, of 46 Montgomery Street; Saugerties, and Iris Hayes, 26, of 2 St. Mary's Street.

A charge of driving without a registration against Vogt was dismissed when he produced his registration.

In an adjourned case, Cornelius Kidney, 65 Cedar Street, paid a $15 fine when he admitted driving without a license plate light.

A disorderly conduct charge against David J. Seigel, 70, of 66 Clinton Avenue, was adjourned to Tuesday in order for him to obtain counsel. He was arrested at Broadway and Staples Street, Bail of $150 was continued.

Special Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr. presided in court.

Election, Parade

The highlight of Friday night's meeting, Aug. 7, will be the election of officers for the coming year. Dominick Constantino of Highland, currently serving as first vice-president, is expected to be elected to the presidency to succeed Herb Faurote of Bloomington, who will complete his term of office in August.

According to tradition, since each president's home company hosts the annual convention during his tenure, Highland is anticipated as the scene of the 1965 Convention. Also during this meeting, the annual reports of the County Association Officers will be presented. Following the business session, refreshments will be served in the firehouse. Philip Mikes of Bloomington heads the refreshment committee.

Parade Begins at 5

On Saturday afternoon the annual parade will climax the convention. The parade, expected to be the largest in the history of the County Association, will begin promptly at 5 p. m. in the village of Rosendale, and will include over 40 fire companies and 20 musical organizations, for a total of over 2,000 marchers. It will form in Park Street Estates, and from there proceed West along James Street to Main Street, the East on Main Street to Route 32, then South on Route 32 to Sportsman's Park Field where it will disband and refreshments will be served.

The reviewing stand for the parade will be located in front of Rosendale Firehouse, Main Street. Barry Purcell of Bloomington is the parade chairman with Herman Miller of Cottekill handling refreshments and Maurice Cookston, Rosendale, in charge of traffic.

Parade judges are for Firemen, Percy Van Leuven, chairman, Albert Belle Isle and Colin Jackson; for Auxiliaries, Mrs. Edward Moulton and Mrs. Jean Thornton; for Apparatus, Chief Edward Moulton and Earl Weale; for Musical Units, Walter Durkee and Clarence Cooper; and for Visiting Companies, Thomas Rodgers and Francis X. Maloney.

Trophy winners will be announced and the awards presented at approximately 8 p. m. at Sportsman's Park Field. Trophy competition will be in the following categories: Best Appearing Unit in Regulation Uniform, Second Best Appearing Unit in Regulation Uniform, Best Appearing Unit in Dress Uniform with over 15 men, as well as under 15 men, and second place in both of these categories, Best and Second Best Marching Ladies' Auxiliaries, Best Musical Unit — Band and Best Musical Unit — Drum Corps, as well as Best Junior Musical Unit, Best and Second Best Appearing Apparatus, and Best Appearing Guest Company.

A Week After Nightmare: Rochester Peaceful, Troop Cutback Looms

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Peace and quiet prevailed today in Rochester's riot-scarred Negro sections, where hundreds of police, have been playing a deadly serious watch-and-wait game since last weekend's mob violence and looting.

With no new outbreaks of racial trouble reported during the night, law enforcement authorities indicated they felt tensions had eased noticeably in this city.

Gradual Reduction
If the relative calm continues throughout the weekend, officials are expected to begin a gradual reduction of 1,500 National Guard troops who have been on standby alert all week, ready to assist city and state police and sheriff's deputies if needed.

The mob violence which swirled through the streets was touched off when police attempted to arrest a Negro youth for disorderly conduct at a street dance a week ago yesterday.

It continued for two days and three nights. Looters, both Negro and white, ransacked and pillaged stores.

Police and firemen battled the rioters with clubs and fire hoses but the violence was not brought under control finally until several hundred guardsmen — displaying rifles with fixed bayonets — rumbled through the city in trucks in a "show of force."

Four persons were killed, about 350 injured and nearly 1,000 arrested during the outbreak.

Bank Help Promised
Meanwhile, some 100 merchants whose stores were looted or damaged were told Friday at a meeting of the Joseph Avenue Businessmen's Association that seven members banks of the Rochester Clearinghouse Association were prepared to extend long-term loans covering up to 100 per cent of their losses.

Internal Revenue Service officials explained how the merchants could spread out their losses on building and equipment for a period of eight years.

Rusk Answers GOP Charges

Says Demand Won't Make Reds Play Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says it is unrealistic to expect the Russians to "roll over and play dead" when faced with U.S. demands. Besides, he says, the United States can be tough.

Two Are Pursued
This declaration by Rusk at a news conference Friday — that realism and toughness are being pursued together — was by way of reply to Republican charges that the administration has been lenient toward Communists in dealing with the Communists.

"It would be unrealistic to suppose they will roll over and play dead on the basis of anything that we say and do that might affect their vital interests," the secretary said.

But when a newsman told Rusk that some Republican critics have been suggesting that the United States would be more successful in dealing with the Soviet Union if it adopted a tougher stance, he quickly replied the United States is "just as tough and just as stubborn as necessary to protect our vital interests."

"We ourselves would not yield to pressures against our vital interests. We have to be cautious about supposing that others would do the same," he said.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, last June charged the administration with a "weak-kneed" foreign policy and last March said, "We are following the same paths of appeasement that we followed in the 1930s."

Doubts Any Changes
Asked about the "forthcoming campaign debate on foreign policy," Rusk said he does not anticipate any significant changes in policy during the next several months.

The main U.S. foreign policies are adopted and approved by the people and their leaders and the broadest sense on a bipartisan basis, he said.

A newsman asked if Goldwater is not committed to basic changes in bipartisan foreign policy. Rusk said this is something that may emerge in the course of the campaign. "But nevertheless, I think the main lines of American policy are well known and have very strong support throughout the country on a bipartisan basis," he added.

"I would not expect major deviations from those well-established policies," Rusk said.

Traver Quitting Po'keepsie Force

George H. Traver, who received a suspended sentence in Dutchess County Court on Wednesday, is reportedly resigning from his position as a lieutenant in the Poughkeepsie Police Department.

The suspended sentence came after his conviction on a second degree assault charge based on his striking a cab driver with a gun. The incident occurred at Traver's home last November and he was suspended the day after the dispute.

Traver was found guilty of the assault charge by a County Court jury in June.

According to a Poughkeepsie report, the former police official will deliver his letter of resignation to City Manager Peace. Traver's letter is said to disclose the following: "I hereby submit my resignation as a lieutenant in the Poughkeepsie Police Department to take effect immediately."

Ole Opry Star Aboard Plane, Is Feared Down

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A private plane carrying famed country music singer Jim Reeves and piano player Dean Manuel was missing today and believed to have crashed just outside Nashville.

Reeves was a star with the Grand Ole Opry here.

About 500 persons were searching for the wreckage early today, aided by two military helicopters mounted with giant lights.

The Tennessee Highway Patrol and officials at the Nashville airport control tower said they were unable to confirm that Reeves and Manuel were aboard the missing plane.

They were apparently on a flight from Batesville, Ark., to Nashville — the international center of country and Western music.

The control tower said it had established radio and radar contact with the plane about 6 p.m. (EST) Friday, when the pilot, apparently Reeves, said he was running into heavy rain. The tower said a short time later contact was lost.

Reeves starred in a movie, "Kimbly Jim," just released in this country. The movie was filmed in South Africa, where Reeves has become a singing idol in the past two years.

A former pitcher in the St. Louis Cardinals farm system, Reeves was an outstanding athlete at the university of Texas.

He owned two music publishing firms and two radio stations.

Manuel is a long-time member of Reeves' band, the Blue Boys.

tion will be exercised." He said that as of today it had not been exercised, but it was anticipated that it could be shortly.

Meanwhile, Karl Strobel, temporary president of the Josephburgh Mountain Corp., assured both the town and village of Rosendale that if the corporation exercises its option on or before Aug. 20, that "in the case of an emergency" the village "will be supplied with water if available free of charge."

Strobel, in a statement issued to The Freeman, said: "Also, the effects of this corporation would like to clarify any misunderstandings that may have accrued prior to this. It is our intention to operate this site with the best interest of the Town of Rosendale and its residents as much as we possibly can. If we have anything that will assist the area in solving their problems in an emergency they will be made available to them at once."

Strobel further said that a finance committee has been established to obtain subscriptions for the capital stock of the corporation and to collect the subscriptions already obtained. Upon a final issuance of the capital stock, a stockholders meeting will be called and a board of directors will be elected, who in turn will designate the permanent officers of the corporation.

It is anticipated that this will be in the latter part of August. The committee said, that in the event sufficient funds are not raised to carry out the proposed venture, the corporation will be dissolved and the investment returned to the stockholders.

They emphasized that the corporation is working to re-establish an established and recognized internationally known ski jumping facility, which was victim of World War II indicated that subscriptions and monies received have demonstrated the interest of the people. At the present time, success appears to be assured.

Even if the ski jump never becomes a reality, the investment will still remain represented by the 1174 acre tract which is increasing in value daily, according to the committee.

It was announced by the committee that restrictions have been placed on the number of shares any one individual may own. These restrictions being that no one can hold more than 25 shares purchased for $2,500, that no one individual may own more than 10 per cent of the corporation.

Fulbright Warns Against Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee told the Senate today that President Johnson's foreign aid request "cannot be further reduced without undermining the aid program as an instrument of foreign policy."

Could Last All Week
Thus the Arkansas Democrat appealed for passage of the foreign aid authorization as it cleared his committee — $3.4 billion or $50 million below the President's request.

In a speech prepared for the opening of debate which may last through next week, Fulbright declared foreign aid is inseparable from U.S. political and defense policies and from "the over-all defense and social and economic development" of non-Communist nations around the globe.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a leading foe of the program, has already offered amendments to cut the bill by more than $500 million and to revamp foreign aid policies. Voting on these and other amendments will start sometime next week.

Fulbright said it is "an impenetrable mystery to me why it is that fears of extravagance and waste are so overwhelmingly focused on foreign aid rather than on other, more costly programs."

He recalled that the Senate spent three weeks last year in "rancorous debate" over a $3.6 billion foreign aid program and "immediately thereafter approved a space budget of over $5 billion with only perfunctory debate."

Authorization First

"This, of course, is to say nothing of our annual military budgets of over $50 billion which have recently been approved with no more than a few judicious queries," he added.

Fulbright said the aid program is "a normal instrument of policy like diplomacy, military power or intelligence."

The Senate must pass the authorization measure, setting ceilings on economic and military assistance abroad, before it takes up the money bill.

Fulbright reminded the Senate that Johnson's aid budget was $1 billion below that offered by the late President John F. Kennedy a year ago.

Workers Expect To Finish Shaft In Mine Cave-in

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Workers drilling a 32-inch wide escape passage for nine miners trapped 200 feet below the ground were expected to complete the shaft by midnight tonight.

But officials, wary of a possible setback, were reluctant to predict when the men, entombed in the mine chamber for more than four days, would be brought up.

A rockfall briefly cut communications with the trapped miners early today but officials said no one was injured and the delicate drilling job continued with the threat that it could trigger further rock falls.

Fourteen miners were trapped Monday in the cave-in of the limestone mine near the Swiss border.

Two Ulster County volunteer fire companies responded to separate alarms Friday night in the southern part of the county.

Mutual Aid dispatcher said Highland fire fighters were summoned to an alarm at 7:40 p. m. where fire started in an electric stove in a home on VanWageningen Road. They returned to service at 8:35 p. m.

Milton volunteers answered a call to a shack fire at 6:43. They were back in service at 8:08.

Rate Moon's...

you want to do it with as little damage as possible," he said. "So you pick an area where the ship is not likely to tip over or have to land on a litter of debris."

The thousands of tiny pock marks, he said, seemed to cluster at some distance from large primary craters such as Copernicus, about 200 miles north of the target zone.

Created by Meteors

This indicates the big craters were created by meteors and meteorites which exploded on impact and threw out fragments of many sizes, Kuiper explained.

Between the big primary craters and the clusters of secondary craters around them, however, are relatively "clean" areas which could be good landing sites, he said.

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker of the U.S. Geological Survey at Flagstaff, Ariz., another of the five experts who studied Ranger 7's photographs, suggested that future moon probes study the texture of the surface in the centers of large craters.

Shoemaker was asked if he would be afraid to step out of a landing craft onto the kind of surface shown in the photographs. He answered: "I wouldn't be very worried."

He said, however, there was no way to check the load-bearing strength of the moon's crust from photographs alone.

The photographs, taken from 1,300 miles out down to 1,000 feet, seemed to resolve an old controversy over whether dust on the moon is thick enough to swallow a landing craft.

Depth Ranges

The fact that rocks thrown from the big craters often were still visible in the bottoms of the shallow craters they created indicated that the dust ranges from a few inches to no more than a foot in depth, the scientists said.

One of the surprising things the photographs showed, Kuiper said, was that the smaller craters were rounded and soft-looking, completely lacking the sharp jaggedness of the big craters.

One explanation, he said, would be that they were made in dust, not in the hard basic material which seems to underlie the dust.

Evidence of Volcanos

Kuiper said there were many evidences of volcanic activity in the moon's crust and that some of the steeper craters might be extinct volcanos.

The excellence of the photographs was a fitting climax to the spectacularly accurate marksmanship of the Ranger shot.

When launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., last Tuesday, its trajectory was so near perfect it would have hit the moon without use of a small rocket built in to correct its course midway.

It would have landed on the back side of the moon, however, defeating the purpose of the photographic expedition. With a minor adjustment, scientists brought it on course so it would hit within 10 miles of its intended goal.

Russia's Lunik III took pictures of the far side of the moon in 1959 but was so far out — about 40,000 miles — that the details were indistinct.

Viet Cong Attacks Close to Saigon

VINH LOC, Vit Nam — Communist Viet Cong forces struck boldly within three miles of Saigon today in the closest heavy engagement to the capital in the history of the guerrilla war.

Only paddyfields separated suburban Vinh Loc from the Saigon Airport three miles away as an estimated battalion of Viet Cong attacked with heavy mortar fire. The Communist guerrillas got as close to Saigon as possible without actually entering the suburbs.

Spot Tracer Bullets
The roar of exploding shells resounded throughout the city, touching off fears of an attempt to overthrow the regime of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

American airmen based at the airport said buildings there shook under the barrage and tracer bullets could be seen. Newsmen found three Viet Cong bodies strewn in the market place in front of a government propaganda sign showing Red China's Mao Tse-tung and Viet Premier Khrushchev strangling a Vietnamese peasant with a rope.

The small civil guard outpost

at Vinh Loc had been smashed by mortar shells and recoilless rifles.

Casualties Light
Casualties were light in the fight that began around 1 a.m. and lasted intermittently until daylight.

Bullets flew around civilian houses and wounded three persons. One civil guard defender was killed and three others wounded.

The significance of the battle was that it was fought so close to the city. The Viet Cong side stepped a dozen other forts deeper in the countryside to strike there.

"Maybe they are getting in practice for an attack on the airport," one Vietnamese officer said.

In another development Khanh repudiated Friday his "back to the North" policy statements, apparently bowing to U.S. diplomatic pressure.

Khanh said the South Vietnamese people "can no longer tolerate the inhuman massacre of their fellow citizens by the Communists," but added that his policy "does not for the moment mean we must send our troops to strike North Viet Nam."

Britain, Soviet Agree to Search For Nuclear Check

MOSCOW (AP) — Britain and the Soviet Union agreed today to work for an international treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons, Tass said.

The Soviet news agency published a joint Soviet-British communique at the end of a visit to Moscow by Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler of Britain.

Butler had come to Moscow in search of an agreement on measures to follow up the 1963 Moscow treaty banning nuclear tests everywhere but underground.

The Tass summary of the communique, based on talks between Butler and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko as well as Premier Khrushchev said the Soviet Union and Britain "are in accord that the achievement of an agreement on the nonproliferation of nuclear arms and the conclusion for this purpose of an appropriate international treaty would be in the interests of peace."

11 Drivers Pay $180 Court Fines

Eleven motorists paid $180 in fines today in City Court when they admitted various traffic charges.

Fined $15 each when they admitted speeding charges, were: Helen Saxton, 30, of Box 400, RD 4; Bill Leudeke, 16, of New Paltz; John E. Schultz, 63, of Box 131, Tillson; Christos Larios, 27, of Hilltop Drive; Nicholas Morris, 20, of 3 Cedar Street; Kurt Herrman, 32, of 415 Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie; Tracy M. Gilmore, 58, of 46 Montgomery Street, Saugerties, and Iris Hayes, 26, of 2 St. Mary's Street.

A charge of driving without a registration against Vogt was dismissed when he produced his registration.

In an adjourned case, Cornelius Kidney, 65 Cedar Street, paid a $15 fine when he admitted driving without a license plate light.

A disorderly conduct charge against David J. Seigel, 70, of 66 Clinton Avenue, was adjourned to Tuesday in order for him to obtain counsel. He was arrested at Broadway and Staples Street, Bail of $150 was continued.

Special Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr. presided in court.

Election, Parade

men's Home of the State of New York, James McNamara of Rosendale is the banquet chairman.

The highlight of Friday night's meeting, Aug. 7, will be the election of officers for the coming year. Dominick Constantino of Highland, currently serving as first vice-president, is expected to be elected to the presidency to succeed Herb Faure of Bloomington, who will complete his term of office in August. According to tradition, since each president's home company hosts the annual convention during his tenure, Highland is anticipated as the scene of the 1965 Convention. Also during this meeting, the annual reports of the County Association Officers will be presented. Following the business session, refreshments will be served in the firehouse. Philip Mikes of Bloomington heads the refreshment committee.

Parade Begins at 5
On Saturday afternoon the annual parade will climax the convention. The parade, expected to be the largest in the history of the County Association, will begin promptly at 5 p. m. in the village of Rosendale, and will include over 40 fire companies and 20 musical organizations, for a total of over 2,000 marchers. It will form in Parkcrest Estates, and from there proceed West along James Street to Main Street, the East on Main Street to Route 32, then South on Route 32 to Sportsman's Park Field where it will disband and refreshments will be served.

The reviewing stand for the parade will be located in front of Rosendale Firehouse, Main Street. Barry Purcell of Bloomington is the parade chairman with Herman Miller of Cottekill handling refreshments and Maurice Cookston, Rosendale, in charge of traffic.

Parade judges are for Firemen, Percy Van Leuven, chairman, Albert Belle Isle and Colin Jackson; for Auxiliaries, Mrs. Edward Moulton and Mrs. Jean Thornton; for Apparatus, Chief Edward Moulton and Chief Edward; for Musical Units, Walter Durkee and Clarence Cooper; and for Visiting Companies, Thomas Rodgers and Francis X. Maloney.

Trophy winners will be announced and the awards presented at approximately 8 p. m. at Sportsman's Park Field. Trophy competition will be in the following categories: Best Appearing Unit in Regulation Uniform, Second Best Appearing Unit in Regulation Uniform, Best Appearing Unit in Dress Uniform with over 15 men, as well as under 15 men, and second place in both of these categories, Best and Second Best Marching Ladies' Auxiliaries, Best Musical Unit — Band and Best Musical Unit — Drum Corps, as well as Best Junior Musical Unit, Best and Second Best Appearing Apparatus, and Best Appearing Guest Company.

A Week After Nightmare: Rochester Peaceful, Troop Cutback Looms

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Peace and quiet prevailed today in Rochester's riot-scarred Negro sections, where hundreds of police have been playing a deadly serious watch-and-wait game since last weekend's mob violence and looting.

With no new outbreaks of racial trouble reported during the night, law enforcement authorities indicated they felt tensions had eased noticeably in this city.

Gradual Reduction
If the relative calm continues throughout the weekend, officials are expected to begin a gradual reduction of 1,500 National Guard troops who have been on standby alert all week, ready to assist city and state police and sheriff's deputies if needed.

The mob violence which swirled through the streets was touched off when police attempted to arrest a Negro youth for disorderly conduct at a street dance a week ago yesterday.

It continued for two days and three nights. Looters, both Negro and white, ransacked and pillaged stores.

Police and firemen battled the rioters with clubs and fire hoses but the violence was not brought under control finally until several hundred guardsmen — displaying rifles with fixed bayonets — rumbled through the city in trucks in a "show of force."

Four persons were killed, about 350 injured and nearly 1,000 arrested during the outbreak.

Bank Help Promised
Meanwhile, some 100 merchants whose stores were looted or damaged were told Friday at a meeting of the "Joseph Avenue Businessmen's Association" that seven members banks of the Rochester Clearinghouse Association were prepared to extend long-term loans covering up to 100 per cent of their losses.

Internal Revenue Service officials explained how the merchants could spread out their losses on building and equipment for a period of eight years.

Rusk Answers GOP Charges

Says Demand Won't Make Reds Play Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says it is unrealistic to expect the Russians to "roll over and play dead" when faced with U.S. demands. Besides, he says, the United States can be tough

Two Are Pursued
This declaration by Rusk at a news conference Friday — that realism and toughness are being pursued together — was by way of reply to Republican charges that the administration has been less than forceful in dealing with the Communists.

"It would be unrealistic to suppose they will roll over and play dead," he said, "and do that might affect their vital interests," the secretary said.

But when a newsman told Rusk that some Republican critics have been suggesting that the United States would be more successful in dealing with the Soviet Union if it adopted a tougher stance, he quickly replied the United States is "just as tough and just as stubborn as necessary to protect our vital interests."

"We ourselves would not yield to pressures against our vital interests. We have to be cautious about supposing that others would do the same," he said.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, last June charged the administration with a "weak-kneed" foreign policy and last March said, "We are following the same paths of appeasement that we followed in the 1930s."

Doubts Any Changes
Asked about the "forthcoming campaign debate on foreign policy," Rusk said he does not anticipate any significant changes in policy during the next several months.

The main U.S. foreign policies are adopted and approved by the people and their leaders in the broad sense on a bipartisan basis, he said.

A newsman asked if Goldwater is not committed to basic changes in bipartisan foreign policy.

Rusk said this is something that may emerge in the course of the campaign. "But nevertheless, I think the main lines of American policy are well known and have very strong support throughout the country on a bipartisan basis," he added.

"I would not expect major deviations from those well-established policies," Rusk said.

Traver Quitting Po'keepsie Force

George H. Traver, who received a suspended sentence in Dutchess County Court on Wednesday, is reportedly resigning from his position as a lieutenant in the Poughkeepsie Police Department.

The suspended sentence came after his conviction on a second degree assault charge based on his striking a cab driver with a gun. The incident occurred at Traver's home last November and he was suspended the day after the dispute.

Traver was found guilty of the assault charge by a County Court jury in June.

According to a Poughkeepsie report, the former police official will deliver his letter of resignation to City Manager Peace. Traver's letter is said to disclose the following:

"I hereby submit my resignation as a lieutenant in the Poughkeepsie Police Department to take effect immediately."

Plans for the Syracuse Center have been endorsed by two of the leading clergymen of the state.

Methodist Bishop W. Ralph Ward of the Syracuse area, said: "The proposal for an Inter-Church Center is full of promise and value for all citizens of New York. The possibility of being together in one place administratively will be an advance for all. I am confident that all in the Methodist family in the state rejoice in the prospect of this enterprise and will give the coming campaign their support and wholehearted encouragement."

Dr. Clarence B. Gilbert, executive secretary of the New York State Baptist Convention, commented:

"The proposed Interchurch Center has real appeal to me because of the opportunity it provides for Protestant groups to be housed in one building where a closer relationship may be obtained. Without question there is a growing feeling among Protestants that they must find a greater measure of unity and oneness in Christ. Working together in the same building would provide opportunity for more dialogue between denominations and oneness of efforts."

FBI Will Sponsor Police Conference At Bear Mountain

Assistant Director in Charge John F. Malone of the New York Office of the FBI today announced that a specialized law enforcement conference would be sponsored by the FBI at Bear Mountain on Aug. 26. The purpose of the conference is to discuss the provisions of the newly enacted Civil Rights Act in addition to a review of the provisions of the Fugitive Felon Act.

According to Mr. Malone, the conference will be attended by representatives of the FBI and law enforcement agencies in this area. The meeting is being held in connection with a series of conferences throughout the nation between now and Aug. 28.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover stated that officials attending the conferences will be provided with full information pertaining to the FBI's responsibilities under the Civil Rights Act. Mr. Hoover stated that the nationwide conferences are being held in view of the numerous requests which have been received from police executives concerning the new civil rights legislation and its relationship to law enforcement on all levels.

The series will also contain a complete discussion of the provisions of the Fugitive Felon Act in an effort to inform local agencies of the services which can be rendered by the FBI where a fugitive has fled the state to avoid prosecution, custody or confinement after conviction of a crime which is a felony under the laws of the state where the crime occurred.

Airmen Will Appear In Court on Thursday
A petit larceny charge lodged against six Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, airmen by Bernard Robinson of New Paltz, was continued until Thursday, Aug. 6, at 1 p. m. when the case came up before New Paltz Justice of the Peace Robert Harp Friday night.

Arrested by New Paltz Police Officer Calvert Harvey last Tuesday were James McCleary, 20; Flores Stratton, 20; Rodney Horolowicz, 24; Guy E. Davidson, 19; Homer F. Costen, 19; and Ronald D. Dusenberry, 20. It was charged the men took a .22 calibre gun from the complainant, and disposed of the gun. The gun has not been found.

A six were represented by Attorney Edward Greene of New Paltz. They were released in their own recognizance for appearance Aug. 6.

Ole Opry Star Aboard Plane, Is Feared Down

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A private plane carrying famed country music singer Jim Reeves and piano player Dean Manuel was missing today and believed to have crashed just outside Nashville.

Reeves was a star with the Grand Ole Opry here. About 500 persons were searching for the wreckage early today, aided by two military helicopters mounted with giant lights.

The Tennessee Highway Patrol and officials at the Nashville airport control tower say exhaustive checks seem to confirm that Reeves and Manuel were aboard the missing plane. They were apparently on a flight from Batesville, Ark., to Nashville — the international center of country and Western music.

The control tower said it had established radio and radar contact with the plane about 6 p.m. (EST) Friday, when the pilot, apparently Reeves, said he was running into heavy rain. The tower said a short time later contact was lost.

Reeves starred in a movie, "Kimberly Jim," just released in this country. The movie was filmed in South Africa, where Reeves has become a singing idol in the past two years.

A former pitcher in the St. Louis Cardinals farm system, Reeves was an outstanding athlete at the University of Texas. He owned two music publishing firms and two radio stations.

Manuel is a long-time member of Reeves' band, the Blue Boys.

tion will be exercised." He said that as of today it had not been decided, but it was anticipated that it would be shortly.

Meanwhile, Karl Strobel, temporary president of the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., assured both the town and village of Rosendale that if the corporation exercises its option on or before Aug. 20, that "in the case of an emergency" the village "will be supplied with water if available free of charge."

Strobel, in a statement issued to The Freeman, said:

"Also, the officers of this corporation would like to clarify any misunderstanding that may have accrued prior to this. It is our intention to operate this site with the best interest of the Town of Rosendale and its residents as much as we possibly can. If we have anything that will assist the area in solving their problems in an emergency they will be made available to them at once."

Strobel further said that a finance committee has been established to obtain subscriptions for the capital stock of the corporation and to collect the subscription already obtained.

Upon a final issuance of the capital stock, a stockholders meeting will be called and a board of directors will be elected, who in turn will designate the permanent officers of the corporation. It is anticipated that this will be in the latter part of August.

The committee said, that in the event sufficient funds are not raised to carry out the proposed venture, the corporation will be dissolved and the investment returned to the stockholders.

They emphasized that the corporation is working to re-establish an established and recognized internationally known ski jumping facility, which was a victim of World War II indicated that subscriptions and monies received have demonstrated the interest of the people. At the present time, success appears to be assured.

Even if the ski jump never became a reality, the investment will still remain represented by the 117½ acre tract which is increasing in value daily, according to the committee.

It was announced by the committee that restrictions have been placed on the number of shares any one individual may own. These restrictions being that no one can hold more than 25 shares purchased for $2,500, so that no one individual may own more than 10 per cent of the corporation.

night he was "very sorry" Wagner had not ordered creation of a civilian board to review charges of police brutality.

Wagner noted in his statement that a City Council committee is studying such board in other cities.

He also proposed a seven-point program that called for the creation of more jobs for unemployed young people and an increase in state and federal aid against poverty.

James Lawson, president of the United African Nationalist Movement, who earlier had defied the police ban on demonstrations, called for the rally.

He said he spoke for 17 black nationalist groups.

A grand jury is looking into the July 16 shooting of the Negro boy, James Powell, 15. Police said Gilligan, who was off-duty, fired in self-defense when the boy came at him with a knife. Negro leaders have disputed the explanation.

Fulbright Warns Against Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee told the Senate today that President Johnson's foreign aid request "cannot be further reduced without undermining the aid program as an instrument of foreign policy."

Could Last All Week
Thus the Arkansas Democrat appealed for passage of the foreign aid authorization as it cleared his committee — $3.4 billion or $50 million below the President's request.

In a speech prepared for the opening of debate which may last through next week, Fulbright declared foreign aid is inseparable from U.S. political and defense policies and from "the over-all defense and social and economic development" of non-Communist nations around the globe.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a leading foe of the program, has already offered amendments to cut the bill by more than $500 million and to revamp foreign aid policies. Voting on these and other amendments will start sometime next week.

Authorization First
"This, of course, is to say nothing of our annual military budgets of over $50 billion which have recently been approved with no more than a few judicious queries," he added.

Fulbright said the aid program is "a normal instrument of policy like diplomacy, military power or intelligence." The Senate must pass the authorization measure, setting ceilings on economic and military assistance abroad, before it takes up the money bill.

Fulbright reminded the Senate that Johnson's aid budget was $1 billion below that offered by the late President John F. Kennedy a year ago.

Local Death Record

Hiram D. Sickler

886 Fire Control Calls

The Ulster County Fire Control office on Golden Hill received a total of 886 calls during the month of July. This included the calls for radio tests, Civil Defense and Quick calls. During July there were 87 fires reported to the Control Center. There were six Mutual Aids calls for fires to which two or more companies responded. Eighteen emergency calls were received including calls for ambulances and emergency equipment and during the month four false alarms were recorded.

Deaths

CHESTER, Conn. (AP) — Dr. Dorothy Reed Mendenhall, 89, a pioneer in research on Hodgkins' Disease, died Friday. She is credited with identifying the diagnostic cells of the disease while a fellow at Johns Hopkins University.

LONDON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Sir William Porter MacArthur, 80, royal physician from 1930 through 1941, died Friday at his London home. Sir William, who served King George V, Edward VIII and George VI, also was a former director-general of Army Medical Services and was president in 1959-61 of the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward F. Woods, 53, Washington correspondent for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, died Friday at his home. He was on vacation after an illness of several days. A specialist on labor affairs, he joined the Post-Dispatch in 1946.

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — William Skilling Leffler, 70, an engineer credited with inventing jellied gasoline used in flame throwers, died Thursday after a long illness.

Fulbright said it is "an impenetrable mystery to me why it is that fears of extravagance and waste are so overwhelmingly focused on foreign aid rather than on other, more costly programs."

He recalled that the Senate spent three weeks last year in "rancorous debate" over a $3.6 billion foreign aid program and "immediately thereafter approved a space budget of over $5 billion with only perfunctory debate."

Authorization First
"This, of course, is to say nothing of our annual military budgets of over $50 billion which have recently been approved with no more than a few judicious queries," he added.

Fulbright said the aid program is "a normal instrument of policy like diplomacy, military power or intelligence." The Senate must pass the authorization measure, setting ceilings on economic and military assistance abroad, before it takes up the money bill.

Fulbright reminded the Senate that Johnson's aid budget was $1 billion below that offered by the late President John F. Kennedy a year ago.

Workers Expect To Finish Shaft In Mine Cave-in
CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Workers drilling a 32-inch wide escape passage for nine miners trapped 200 feet below the ground were expected to complete the shaft by midnight tonight.

But officials, wary of a possible setback, were reluctant to predict when the men, entombed in the mine chamber for more than four days, would be brought up.

A rockfall briefly cut communications early today but officials said no one was injured and the delicate drilling job continued with the threat that it could trigger further rock falls.

Fourteen miners were trapped Monday in the cave-in of the limestone mine near the Swiss border.

Traffic Light Installed

A traffic control light has been installed at the intersection of West O'Reilly Street and Mary's Avenue, replacing stop signs that were regarded as confusing to drivers because they halted vehicles on both streets and there was no "go" signal. Traffic is heavy at the point which is near Benedictine Hospital.

DIED

BUDNEY — Matilda E. (nee Messing), on Saturday, August 1, 1964, of 125 Cedar Street, Kingston, beloved wife of Edward J. Budney Sr.; mother of Donald F. and Edward J. Budney Jr.

ANNOUNCING ENGAGEMENT AT ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Q: My husband and I are planning to give a dinner party in honor of our 25th wedding anniversary. We are only inviting close relatives and friends. Our daughter would like her father to announce her engagement at this dinner. This leaves us with a bit of a problem. Her fiancé's parents are strangers to us and we had not planned to invite them to our anniversary dinner. However, since the engagement will also be announced at this time, should his parents be invited?

A: It is not necessary to invite his parents to a dinner party you are giving to celebrate your silver anniversary and at which the announcement of your daughter's engagement will be incidental.

Widow's Second Marriage

Q: I am a widow about to remarry. I would like to be married in church and have my family and nearest friends present. I will wear a suit and my sister will be my only attendant. Do we walk up the aisle to music and should my father give me away? What is the correct procedure to follow?

A: If the church is a very large one and only a few first pews are to be occupied, it would be better to enter from a wide door up front rather than walk up the aisle of an almost empty church. If the church is small, you could quite properly walk up the aisle to music and have your father give you away.

A Man's Handkerchief

Q: Is it in good taste for a man to wear a handkerchief in his breast pocket, and if so, how is it folded?

A: Certainly he may wear a handkerchief. It should be spotlessly clean and folded casually (not in three little peaks) so that an inch or so shows above the edge of the pocket.

Rigoletto to Mark Half-Way Point at Byrdcliffe Theater

The Turnau Opera Player's production of Verdi's Rigoletto will mark the half-way point in this summer's Woodstock Opera Festival. The Turnau Performances, which are all in English, are presented Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights at the Byrdcliffe Theater in Woodstock.

Verdi's Rigoletto is one of the most popular operas ever written. The score is filled with musical number which have become so widely known that even people who have no knowledge of opera are familiar with them.

The quartet at the end of the opera is probably the most popular piece of operatic music ever written.

The story of the opera is that of a deformed court jester whose warped mind and body lead him to mock the misfortunes of those who are abused by the depraved Duke of Mantua. Eventually the Duke takes a fancy to Rigoletto's own daughter and the curse which Rigoletto has mockingly pronounced on others is turned on the jester himself.

Featured in the cast will be Carole Toscano as Gilda, Adib Fazah as Rigoletto, William Greene as the Duke and Don Yule as Sparafucile.

August 22 has been selected as the date of the wedding, which will take place 4 p. m. at the First Unitarian Church of Providence, Rhode Island. Miss Kent is the granddaughter of George C. Kent, Old Hurley, and Mrs. Minard Elmendorf of Kingston. Mr. Rovee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Rovee of Memphis.

Miss Kent was a student at the Hurley Elementary School. She received her bachelor's degree cum laude from Louisiana State University. She was vice president of Phi Mu, a member of Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, Psi Chi and Mu Sigma Rho and served as president of Alpha Lambda Delta and Delta Phi Alpha. Miss Kent was listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Miss Kent, who did research work at Jackson Laboratories in Bar Harbor, Maine, received a national Mortar Board Fellowship for graduate study at Brown University where she is attending graduate school. She is a member of Sigma Xi, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the Society for Research in Child Development. She is affiliated with the Baton Rouge Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. Rovee received a Bachelor of Science degree from Memphis State University and a Master of Science from Louisiana State University and is at present attending Brown University Graduate School. He is affiliated with Sigma Xi, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Society of Zoologists, the Association of Southeastern Biologists and the American Institute of Biological Sciences. He is also affiliated with the Memphis Federation of Musicians. He held a National Science Foundation Cooperative Fellowship for graduate study at L.S.U.

After the wedding both will continue working toward their doctorates at Brown University. Both hold fellowships for graduate study from the National Institutes of Health, U.S. Public Health Service.

Rigoletto to Mark Half-Way Point at Byrdcliffe Theater

The Turnau Opera Player's production of Verdi's Rigoletto will mark the half-way point in this summer's Woodstock Opera Festival. The Turnau Performances, which are all in English, are presented Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights at the Byrdcliffe Theater in Woodstock.

Verdi's Rigoletto is one of the most popular operas ever written. The score is filled with musical number which have become so widely known that even people who have no knowledge of opera are familiar with them. The quartet at the end of the opera is probably the most popular piece of operatic music ever written.

The story of the opera is that of a deformed court jester whose warped mind and body lead him to mock the misfortunes of those who are abused by the depraved Duke of Mantua. Eventually the Duke takes a fancy to Rigoletto's own daughter and the curse which Rigoletto has mockingly pronounced on others is turned on the jester himself. Featured in the cast will be Carole Toscano as Gilda, Adib Fazah as Rigoletto, William Greene as the Duke and Don Yule as Sparafucile.

Two-Story Cape Design Features Four Bedrooms

By JACK McELENNEY

The cape design still stands as a sturdy monument to our thrifty minded forefathers. Modern trends have had some influence, but the cape still maintains its position as a highly favored home style in terms of serviceability and economy of construction.

The designer today offers the "August" as his latest variation on this old theme, a compact design that requires a minimum of ground area but still contains four bedrooms.

The first floor provides two good sized bedrooms and a four-

Quality Look In Kitchen First Choice of Family

The kitchen is the first place most house-hunting families look for quality. Most-wanted in a new kitchen are more space and a full complement of top-quality major kitchen appliances, according to builders sensitive to the demands of today's families.

One survey found that the average one-family home has only 150 square feet of kitchen space, and the average apartment only 103. Families who have endured kitchens of this size are quickly attracted to new homes with spacious, well designed kitchens.

Last year, in response to this yearning for larger kitchens, more than 80 per cent of the nation's builders included dining space within the kitchen area.

Next to space, the quality, size and number of appliances are most important. Kitchen designers who work with builders agree that today's smartly styled, labor-saving electric appliances such as ranges, refrigerator-freezers and dishwashers are important to the convenience and livability of a home. They also add to the sale and resale value of a house.

Today's built-in electric ranges are compatible with the "living-room look" desired in modern kitchens. The variety of drop-in ranges, separate surface cooking elements and built-in wall ovens, double or single, makes it easy to design an inviting, convenient kitchen, regardless of its shape.

Electric ranges with automatic stop and start timers, easy-to-reach broilers, automatic meat thermometers, large built-in double ovens, surface heating elements that are adjustable to pan sizes, and optional rotisseries are features women look for when they're shopping for a new home.

They also want roomy electric refrigerator-freezers. Today's customers expect a refrigerator of at least 13 or 14 cubic feet for the average family, according to building authorities. Most popular are the large combination units that cut down on marketing trips by providing an ample larder for a week or more at a time.

In addition to plenty of storage space for frozen and fresh foods, women now look for electric refrigerator-freezers that never need defrosting, even in the freezer section. The now squared-off lines fit snugly under and between cabinets, adding to the built-in look so much in demand today.

An automatic dishwasher, new to most families only ten years ago, has quickly become one of the basic appliances home buyers expect to find in a modern kitchen.

Today's electric dishwashers hold more dishes, save more time, and get dishes cleaner than ever. They help keep sinks and counters neat and uncluttered, making the kitchen more livable all day long.

Prices and Costs

When casting about for corners to cut in the building budget, proceed with caution. Substitutes for permanent materials such as ceramic tile in kitchens, baths and other heavily used areas can lead to costly replacement or redecoration. Economy demands investment of each building dollar in quality materials. Spread over the years in the life of a home, the additional cost of enduring products is small.

'Big' Trick

You can make a small room look larger by using ceramic tile in a diagonal layout. Tiles laid in this manner create the illusion of space because the eye tends to "linger longer" over diagonal lines. This treatment is particularly effective in entrances, hallways, bathrooms, kitchens, and outdoor patios. The many colors available in real tile will assure an attractive installation, and the homemaker will like it because tile is easily cleaned and durable.

Engineer Licenses

Four area men, including two from Ulster County, are among 356 candidates who successfully completed the latest examination in professional engineering.

They are:
Larry L. Homrig, 549 Albany Avenue, Kingston and Robert W. Reip, 153 West Stout Avenue, Port Jervis.

Two Rhinebeck men also successfully passed the examination. They are George W. Allen, 18 Violet Place and William J. Benson, Beacham Hill Road, R.D. 1, both of Rhinebeck.

Licenses to practice have been issued by the Bureau of Professional Licensing Services to the successful candidates.

Seek Hearing Examiners

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced that during August it is again receiving applications for Hearing Examiner positions in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C. and throughout the country. Salaries range from $13,615 to $16,000. Hearing Examiners preside over formal hearings required by law in connection with the work of various Federal regulatory agencies and recommended decisions or make initial decisions based on the evidence presented. All applicants must be licensed attorneys. Announcements and application forms may be obtained from Leo W. Darwak, examiner in charge, Central Post Office.

Drought Aid Is Asked for Steuben No Rain in Sight

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Another county has joined the growing list of drought-disaster areas in New York State as a four-month shortage of rain continued today with no change in sight until at least Thursday.

Gov. Rockefeller Friday added Steuben County to the 19 others previously cited as drought-disaster areas.

The governor asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to permit farmers in Steuben—as he had for the other 19 counties—to use acreage withheld under soil bank and other federal programs.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast higher temperatures today following another chilly night. No rain was sighted.

Early Friday morning the mercury skidded to 26 at Wanaquana, in the Adirondacks. Daytime readings Friday were in the 70s.

The bureau also forecast sparse and spotty rainfall and mostly clear skies through next Wednesday.

The entire state has suffered to some degree from the four-month dearth of rain, with an area from Lake George south into Dutchess and Ulster County bearing the brunt of the drought.

That belt has received only 5 inches of rain since April 1, about 7 inches below normal. Other areas are from 1½ to three inches below par for the four-month period.

Scranton Family Home

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania has returned to his home state after a vacation at Little Moose Lake, near Saranac Lake, N.Y.

The governor and his family arrived at his family estate near here Thursday night.

Scranton, an unsuccessful candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, is slated to return to his Harrisburg office Monday, aides said.

Orioles Split Doubleheader; Bucs' Six Errors Aid Giants

Bunker Hurls Three-Hitter; Yanks Bow, 4-3

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

It doesn't figure to happen, but who could blame Hank Bauer if he has Wally Bunker pitch both ends of the Orioles' next doubleheader.

Bauer called on Bunker in the first game of Friday night's twinbill against Kansas City and the 19-year-old wonder came through for the 12th time, throttling the A's 6-1 on a three-hitter.

The victory, coupled with sudden-death homer that jolted the Yankees 4-3 at Minnesota, gave Baltimore a clear shot at the American League lead. And, when young Dave McNally took a 5-0 bulge into the eighth inning of the nightcap, Bauer must have been preparing one of those "Don't count out the Yanks yet" speeches.

But McNally never got out of the eighth and the Orioles never got into the top spot. The A's pushed six runs across in the inning—chasing McNally, bombing bullpen ace Stu Miller and finishing up against Steve Barber and finally won 7-6 on Ed Charles' leadoff homer off Barber in the ninth.

When it was over, the Orioles were four percentage points out of first place and manager Bauer was looking—somewhat wild-eyed—for another Bunker.

Snap Downing's Struck
Barber, a 20-game winner in 1963 who has now dropped eight of 13 decisions this year, wasn't the only left-hander victimized by a ninth-inning homer. Lefty Al Downing of the Yankees had a six-game winning string broken when Killebrew drove a two-out pitch into the left field bleachers at Minnesota.

Juan Pizarro, the league's premier southpaw, had no such bad luck. The Chicago White Sox axed blanked Washington 6-0 on four hits, struck out 14 and ran his season mark to 14-5. Cleveland took a doubleheader from Detroit 12-3 and 4-2 and Boston nipped the Los Angeles Angels 4-3.

Bunker won his sixth straight in the Orioles' opener and lowered his ERA to 2.71. He checked KC on one hit until the seventh, when Rocky Colavito's 25th homer ended the shutout bid. Brooks Robinson homered for Baltimore and Bob Johnson drove in two runs with a single and ground out.

McNally was working on a six-hitter in the second game when the A's unloaded. Charles led off the eighth with a double and one out later, Ken Harrelson reached first on Johnson's error. Jim Gentile walked, filling the bases, and Doc Edwards scored Charles with a single. Exit McNally.

Berto Campaneris greeted Miller with a two-run double and Nelson Mathews drove in two more, tying the score, with a single. Mathews raced all the way to third on Miller's wild pickoff attempt and scored when Wayne Causey, first up against Barber, lifted a sacrifice fly to left.

Charles Breaks It Up
The Orioles tied it in the ninth on Dick Brown's second homer of the game but Charles broke it up in the bottom of the ninth with his 11th homer, an opposite field shot to right.

Run-scoring hits by Joe Pepitone and Roger Maris and a throwing error by outfielder Tony Oliva gave the Yankees three runs off Camilo Pascual in the fourth. They led 3-1 in the eighth, when Bob Allison hit a solo homer for the Twins. Then, after a single by Rich Rollins in the ninth, Killebrew crashed his 14th homer.

Pizarro, the AL's top winner, fanned the side in three innings and flirted briefly with the major league strikeout record of 18. He had 13 through seven innings but could get only one of the last six outs via strikes.

Bill Skowron drove in two runs with sacrifice flies and Ron Hansen homered. Left-handed hitting Jim King got three of the Senators' hits.

Gary Bell replaced Indians starter Jack Kralick in the third inning of the first game and set down 18 Tigers in order to gain his sixth victory. The Indians collected 10 hits, including homers by Leon Wagner and Bob Chance, off four Detroit pitchers.

Pedro Ramos survived home runs by Norm Cash and Gates Brown in the nightcap for his fifth victory. The Indians' runs came on two infield outs, a wild pitch by loser Joe Sparrano and Chance's sacrifice fly.

Dick Radatz hurled two shut-out innings for the Red Sox, preserving Bill Monbouquette's seventh victory, and Ed Bresnahan drove in three Boston runs with a two-run double and a ground out. Dick Stuart singled home the other run. The Angels got 10 hits, including Bobby Knoop's sixth homer.

Palmer Is Tied for Golf Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer has retrieved the putting ability he misplaced and big Bill Collins of Grossinger's, N.Y., has found a putting touch he never owned.

Palmer, lost in the shuffle with an opening round par 71, surged back Friday with a four-under 67 to share the second round lead at 138 with Collins in the $50,000 Canadian Open golf championship.

"That was my best putting round in the last year," Palmer said after tearing through the 7,000-yard Pinegrove Course in 29 puts.

"I never could make those long ones," Collins said, moments after he's dropped putts from long distances to give him a three-under 68 to go with his initial 70.

Palmer's putter was sour Thursday, but he more than made up for it in the second round with eight one-putt greens. He hit the hole from 100 feet twice for birdies and knocked in a 15-footer on the 520-yard fifth for an eagle.

Collins, who has made a brilliant recovery from a back operation last August, used two more putts than Palmer but was just as spectacular. He dropped putts of 42, 35 and 25 feet on three holes and missed by an inch on a birdie try of 60 feet.

One stroke behind the co-leaders were Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and Billy Casper of Corona, Calif. Casper tied the course record with a 66.

Four pros were at 141, three strokes behind Palmer and Collins and one under par. They were Bob Vervey and Gary Player, two South Africans, Gibby Gilbert, who led the first round, and Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill.

Gilbert, the unheralded prod from Hollywood, Fla., discovered the course with a trifle harder with a three-over 74 to go with his opening 67.

Bob Shave Jr. of Willoughby, Ohio, in second spot on the first day with a 68, also fired a 74 and found himself locked with Jack Nicklaus at par 142 after 36 holes.

Rips 772 Foursome

Jim Kinnis hit 246, 162, 175 and 189 for 772 in the Summer 3-Man Scratch League. Results: Team Five 2, Jim's Jonahs 2; Team Six 3, Aub's Bums 1; Team Eight 4, Terrible Trio 0.

SF Cops, 8-6, To Stay Close; Mets Win Pair

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Error, error on the ball, who commits the most of all? Right now it's the Pittsburgh Pirates. They moved into the lead Friday night, making six errors for the second time this season in an 8-6 loss to the San Francisco Giants.

The sloppy performance gave the Pirates 115 for the season and the major league lead, moving them one ahead of the New York Mets.

The performance also cost the Pirates a chance to move closer to the second-place Giants. Two and one-half games separated the teams before the contest. After it was over, though, the Pirates had dropped from third to fourth place, 3½ behind the San Francisco.

Makes Three Errors
Bill Mazeroski, among baseball's best second basemen, led the Pirates' fielding attack with three errors. Third baseman Bob Bailey came next with two while catcher Jim Pagliaroni trailed with one.

Bailey started the debacle in the third inning, throwing away Hal Lanier's grounder. Lanier later scored as Pagliaroni tossed widely, trying to get the Giant rookie at third.

Lanier again benefitted from Bailey's generosity, this time with two out in the fifth. He reached second on Bailey's wild throw and scored on one of Willie Mays' three singles.

Mazeroski caught Bailey with a sudden seventh-inning spurt, flipping the ball away twice, once to home plate.

The Pirates saved perhaps the most damaging error for last. It belonged to Mazeroski and it came on a potential double play grounder in the ninth inning. The Giants had scored one run and had the bases loaded with one out.

Jose Pagan grounded to Bailey, who threw to Mazeroski for a forced play at second. Mays scored from third while this was happening, but the run wouldn't have counted had Mazeroski's throw to first not gone astray. Matty Alou also came home on the play, giving the Giants an 8-2 lead.

The Pirates then rallied for four runs in their ninth. In other NL games, Philadelphia whipped Los Angeles 6-1, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 7-6, Milwaukee trampled Chicago 13-3 and New York swept Houston 3-0 and 6-2.

Billy O'Dell preserved the Giants' victory, coming on and striking out Don Clendenon for the final out in the Pirates' ninth. Jerry Lynch, who had doubled across two runs, was on second at the time.

Johnny Callison got the Phils off to a 2-0 lead with a home run in the first inning. The league leaders, however, needed some quick relief pitching by Jack Baldschun in the eighth.

Baldschun relieved starter Chris Short with one out and the bases loaded. He struck out Frank Howard and got Ron Fairly on a grounder. The Phils added three runs in the eighth, two on Clay Dalrymple's single.

The Reds erupted for five unearned runs in the second with the aid of errors by Julian Javier and Bill White, but needed Vada Pinson's two-run single in the fifth for their victory. The Cardinals kept coming back, scoring their final run in the ninth on White's single.

Frank McGowan hurled a one-hitter and struck out 11 as the Kingston Babe Ruth league game Friday at the Athletic Field.

In Dietz Stadium contests, the Elks topped Rotary, 14-6, and the Knights of Columbus topped Hurley, 5-2.

Tom Williams' No-Hitter Gives Hurley Tigers 11-0 Decision

Tom Williams issued four passes but didn't allow a hit as the Tigers whitewashed the Indians, 11-0, in a Rondout Valley Little League tilt.

While Williams was setting the Indians down in rapid succession, the winners opened with three runs in the first inning and were never headed. Williams accounted for all but one of the outs, striking out 17 batters.

Break Three Swimming Marks in National Meet

LOS ALTOS HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Three world record shattering performances in Olympic swimming events boost America's chances at the Tokyo Olympics higher today.

The fastest times ever clocked came in National AAU Men's and Women's Outdoor Championships which went into their third session today.

America's young swimmers—all but one of them teen-agers—have smashed five world records, eight American marks and 12 meet records in the first two days of the four-day meet at Foothill College. No less than 22 records—including four world's, seven American and 11 meet marks—fell by the wayside Friday.

Don Schollander, a power-stroking 18-year-old from Santa Clara, Calif., via Oregon, led the assault with a world record-shattering mark of 4 minutes, 12.7 seconds in the 400-meter freestyle.

Schollander took an early lead over Olympic star Murray Rose and fought off a last-ditch rally by the Australian star, who finished second in 4:15.7.

Schollander bettered Rose's world record of 4:15.4, set in 1962 in Chicago. The two are virtually certain to meet in the same race in Tokyo.

Equally impressive was the world record-breaking effort of muscular Dick Roth of nearby Menlo-Atherton High School who set a world's mark of 4:48.6 in the 400-meter medley after barely qualifying for the finals.

Roth topped the record of 4:50.2 by West Germany's G. Hetz in 1963 in defeating favored Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., in the meet's top upset.

The world's record in the women's 400-meter freestyle relay fell before the onslaught of the Santa Clara Swim Club quartet of Donna de Varona, Pokey Watson, Terri Stickles and Jana Haroun. The youngsters swam the distance in 4:08.5 to clip nearly a second off the world's mark of 4:09.4 set by an American national team in 1962.

George Dougherty allowed four hits and whiffed a dozen in hurling the K of C to its win. Charles Moore had the only extra base hit, a triple for Hurley.

Monday's games will have the Legion meeting the K of C at the Stadium and VFW and Elks meeting at the Athletic Field.

LaGrange Meets Highland Team In Monday Tilt

Highland and the Town of LaGrange will battle for the Bi-District Little League title on Monday at Kingston Park, home of the Kingston National Little League.

LaGrange advanced to the bi-district playoff with a 7-0 win over Chatham last evening. Chatham was the winner of the District 15 championship.

Steve Bentley pitched a one-hitter and slammed a home run for LaGrange, which previously was a winner in the Dutchess County playoffs.

Chatham Captures District 15 Title

Chatham won the District 15 Little League tournament with a 6-1 decision over Glasco-East Kingston Thursday at Chatham. The District 15 champs were then beaten, 7-0, last night by LaGrange.

The winners broke a scoreless tie with two runs in the third and coasted home. Mark Frank was the winner and Bob Todaro lost it.

Orioles Split Doubleheader; Bucs' Six Errors Aid Giants

Bunker Hurls Three-Hitter; Yanks Bow, 4-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
It doesn't figure to happen, but who could blame Hank Bauer if he has Wally Bunker pitch both ends of the Orioles' next doubleheader.

Bauer called on Bunker in the first game of Friday night's twinbill against Kansas City and the 19-year-old wonder came through for the 12th time, throttling the A's 6-1 on a three-hitter.

The victory, coupled with sudden-death homer that jolted the Yankees 4-3 at Minnesota, gave Baltimore a clear shot at the American League lead. And, when young Dave McNally took a 5-0 bulge into the eighth inning of the nightcap, Bauer must have been preparing one of those "Don't count out the Yanks yet" speeches.

But McNally never got out of the eighth and the Orioles never got into the top spot. The A's pushed six runs across in the inning—chasing McNally, bombing bullpen ace Stu Miller and finishing up against Steve Barber and finally won 7-6 on Ed Charles' leadoff homer off Barber in the ninth.

When it was over, the Orioles were four percentage points out of first place and manager Bauer was looking—somewhat wild-eyed—for another Bunker.

Snap Downing's Streak
Barber, a 20-game winner in 1963 who has now dropped eight of 13 decisions this year, wasn't the only left-hander victimized by a ninth-inning homer. Lefty Al Downing of the Yankees had a six-game winning string broken when Killbrew drove a two-out pitch into the left field bleachers at Minnesota.

Juan Pizarro, the league's premier southpaw, had no such bad luck. The Chicago White Sox ace blanked Washington 6-0 on four hits, struck out 14 and ran his season mark to 14-5. Cleveland took a doubleheader from Detroit 12-3 and 4-2 and Boston nipped the Los Angeles Angels 4-3.

Bunker won his sixth straight in the Orioles-A's opener and lowered his ERA to 2.71. He checked KC on one hit until the seventh, when Rocky Colavito's 25th homer ended the shutout bid. Brooks Robinson homered for Baltimore and Bob Johnson drove in two runs with a single and ground out.

McNally was working on a six-hitter in the second game when the A's unloaded. Charles led off the eighth with a double and, one out later, Ken Harrelson reached first on Johnson's error. Jim Gentile walked, filling the bases, and Doc Edwards scored Charles with a single. Exit McNally.

Berto Campaneris greeted Miller with a two-run double and Nelson Mathews drove in two more, tying the score, with a single. Mathews raced all the way to third on Miller's wild pickoff attempt and scored when Wayne Causey, first up against Barber, lifted a sacrifice fly to left.

Charles Breaks It Up
The Orioles tied it in the ninth on Dick Brown's second homer of the game but Charles broke it up in the bottom of the ninth with his 11th homer, an opposite field shot to right.

Run-scoring hits by Joe Pepitone and Roger Maris and a throwing error by outfielder Tony Oliva gave the Yankees three runs off Camilo Pascual in the fourth. They led 3-1 in the eighth, when Bob Allison hit a solo homer for the Twins. Then, after a single by Rich Rollins in the ninth, Killbrew crashed his 14th homer.

Pizarro, the AL's top winner, fanned the side in three innings and flirted briefly with the major league strikeout record of 18. He had 13 through seven innings but could get only one of the last six out via strikes.

Bill Skowron drove in two runs with sacrifice flies and Ron Hansen homered. Left-hand hitting Jim King got three of the Senators' hits.

Gary Bell replaced Indians starter Jack Kraliek in the third inning of the first game and set down 18 Tigers in order to gain his sixth victory. The Indians collected 10 hits, including homers by Leon Wagner and Bob Chance, off four Detroit pitchers.

Pedro Ramos survived home runs by Norm Cash and Gates Brown in the nightcap for his fifth victory. The Indians' runs crossed on two infield outs, a wild pitch by loser Joe Sparna and Chance's sacrifice fly.

Dick Radatz hurled two shut-out innings for the Red Sox, preserving Bill Monbouquette's seventh victory, and Ed Bresnold drove in three Boston runs with a two-run double and a ground out. Dick Stuart singled home the other run. The Angels got 10 hits, including Bobby Knop's sixth homer.

Has 756 Foursome
Jerry Wolven hit 189, 159, 182 and 226 for 756 at the Plaza Lanes.

Palmer Is Tied for Golf Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Arnold Palmer has retrieved the putting ability he misplaced and big Bill Collins of Grossinger's, N.Y., has found a putting touch he never owned.

Palmer, lost in the shuffle with an opening round par 71, surged back Friday with a four-under 67 to share the second round lead at 138 with Collins in the $50,000 Canadian Open golf championship.

"That was my best putting round in the last year," Palmer said after tearing through the 7,000-yard Pinegrove Course in 29 putts.

"I never could make those long ones," Collins said, moments after he's dropped putts from long distances to give him a three-under 68 to go with his initial 70.

Palmer's putter was sour Thursday, but he more than made up for it in the second round with eight one-putt greens. He hit the hole from 18 feet twice for birdies and knocked in a 15-footer on the 520-yard fifth for an eagle.

Collins, who has made a brilliant recovery from a back operation last August, used two more putts than Palmer but was just as spectacular. He dropped putts of 42, 35 and 25 feet on three holes and missed by an inch on a birdie try of 60 feet.

One stroke behind the co-leaders were Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and Billy Casper of Corona, Calif. Casper tied the course record with a 66.

Four pros were at 141, three strokes behind Palmer and Collins and one under par. They were Bob Vervey and Gary Player, two South Africans, Gibby Gilbert, who led the first round, and Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill.

Gilbert, the unheralded pro from Hollywood, Fla., discovered the course with a trifle harder with a three-over 74 to go with his opening 67.

Bob Shave Jr. of Willoughby, Ohio, in second spot on the first day with a 68, also fired a 74 and found himself locked with Jack Nicklaus at par 142 after 36 holes.

Rips 772 Foursome
Jim Kinnis hit 246, 162, 175 and 189 for 772 in the Summer 3-Mam Scratch league. Results: Team Five 2, Jim's Jonahs 2; Team Six 3, Aub's Bums 1; Team Eight 4, Terrible Trio 0.

SF Cops, 8-6, To Stay Close; Mets Win Pair

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Error, error on the ball, who commits the most of all?

Right now it's the Pittsburgh Pirates. They moved into the lead Friday night, making six errors for the second time this season in an 8-6 loss to the San Francisco Giants.

The sloppy performance gave the Pirates 115 for the season and the major league lead, moving them one ahead of the New York Mets.

The performance also cost the Pirates a chance to move closer to the second-place Giants. Two and one-half games separated the teams before the contest.

After it was over, though, the Pirates had dropped from third to fourth place, 3½ behind the San Francisco.

Makes Three Errors
Bill Mazeroski, among baseball's best second basemen, led the Pirates' fielding attack with three errors. Third baseman Bob Bailey came next with two while catcher Jim Pagliaroni trailed with one.

Bailey started the debacle in the third inning, throwing away Hal Lanier's grounder. Lanier later scored as Pagliaroni tossed widely, trying to get the Giant rookie at third.

Lanier again benefitted from Bailey's generosity, this time with two out in the fifth. He reached second on Bailey's wild throw and scored on one of Willie Mays' three singles.

Mazeroski caught Bailey with a sudden seventh-inning spurt, flipping the ball away twice, once to home plate.

The Pirates saved perhaps the most damaging error for last. It belonged to Mazeroski; and it came on a potential double play grounder in the ninth inning. The Giants had scored one run and had the bases loaded with one out.

Jose Pagan grounded to Bailey, who threw to Mazeroski for a force play at second. Mays scored from third while this was happening, but the run wouldn't have counted had Mazeroski's throw to first not go astray. Matty Alou also came home on the play, giving the Giants an 8-2 lead.

The Pirates then rallied for four runs in their ninth. In other NL games, Philadelphia whipped Los Angeles 6-1, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 7-6, Milwaukee trampled Chicago 13-3 and New York swept Houston 3-0 and 6-2.

Billy O'Dell preserved the Giants' victory, coming on and striking out Don Cledon for the final out in the Pirates' ninth. Jerry Lynch, who had doubled across two runs, was on second at the time.

Johnny Callison got the Phillies off to a 2-0 lead with a home run in the first inning. The league leaders, however, needed some clutch relief pitching by Jack Baldschun in the eighth.

Baldschun relieved starter Chris Short with one out and the bases loaded. He struck out Frank Howard and got Ron Fairly on a grounder. The Phillies added three runs in the eighth, two on Clay Dalrymple's single.

The Reds erupted for five unearned runs in the second with the aid of errors by Julian Javier and Bill White, but needed Vada Pinson's two-run single in the fifth for their victory. The Cardinals kept coming back, scoring their final run in the ninth on White's single.

Frank McGowan hurled a one-hitter and struck out 11 as the Legion nipped the VFW, 2-1, in a Kingston Babe Ruth league game Friday at the Athletic Field.

In Dietz Stadium contests, the Elks topped Rotary, 14-6, and the Knights of Columbus topped Hurley, 5-2.

The Legion scored its two runs in the opening inning on three walks and an error. McGowan protected the lead. He gave up a single marker in the fourth and nothing more.

Loser Gregg Rios gave up two hits and fanned 10 batters. Charles Greene, Tom Salzman, Ed Argulewicz and Chip Grover homered in the Elks-Rotary slugfest. Oscar Jones won it over Ray Lindhurst.

George Dougherty allowed four hits and whiffed a dozen in hurling the K of C to its win. Charles Moore had the only extra base hit, a triple for Hurley.

Monday's games will have the Legion meeting the K of C at the Stadium and VFW and Elks meeting at the Athletic Field.

Tom Williams' No-Hitter Gives Hurley Tigers 11-0 Decision

Tom Williams issued four passes but didn't allow a hit as the Tigers whitewashed the Indians, 11-0, in a Rondout Valley Little League tilt.

While Williams was setting the Indians down in rapid succession, the winners opened with three runs in the first inning and were never headed. Williams accounted for all but one of the outs, striking out 17 batters.

Break Three Swimming Marks in National Meet
LOS ALTOS HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Three world record shattering performances in Olympic swimming events boost America's chances at the Tokyo Olympics higher today.

The fastest times ever clocked came in National AAU Men's and Women's Outdoor Championships which went into their third session today.

America's young swimmers—all but one of them teen-agers—have smashed five world records, eight American marks and 12 meet records in the first two days of the four-day meet at Foothill College. No less than 22 records—including four world's, seven American and 11 meet marks—fell by the wayside Friday.

Don Schollander, a power-stroking 18-year-old from Santa Clara, Calif., via Oregon, led the assault with a world record-shattering mark of 4 minutes, 12.7 seconds in the 400-meter freestyle.

Schollander took an early lead over Olympic star Murray Rose and fought off a last-ditch rally by the Australian star, finally finishing second in 4:15.7.

Schollander bettered Rose's world record of 4:13.4, set in 1962 in Chicago. The two are virtually certain to meet in the same race in Tokyo.

Equally impressive was the world record-breaking effort of muscular Dick Roth of nearby Menlo-Atherton High School who set a world's mark of 4:48.6 in the 400-meter medley after barely qualifying for the finals.

Roth topped the record of 4:50.2 by West Germany's G. Hetz in 1963 in defeating favored Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., in the meet's top upset.

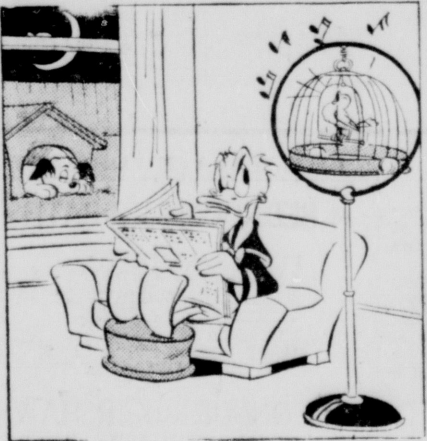

The world's record in the women's 400-meter freestyle relay fell before the onslaught of the Santa Clara Swim Club quartet of Donna de Varona, Pakey Watson, Terri Stickles and Jana Haroun. The youngsters swam the distance in 4:08.5 to clip nearly a second off the world's mark of 4:09.4 set by an American national team in 1962.

Schollander took an early lead over Olympic star Murray Rose

Goodness strives not, and therefore it is not rebuked.

Hal—You say this fellow is crooked?

Cal—Is he crooked? Say, he's so crooked even the wool he pulls over your eyes is half cotton.

A woman driver was arrested for making an "O" turn. She began to make a "U" turn but changed her mind.

James—What's the matter, John, you look kind of weather-beaten this morning.

John—That's exactly what I am. I bet five dollars it would rain yesterday, and it didn't.

The average man doesn't oppose reform. What irks him is being reformed by somebody no better than he is.

She—It looks as though you had raised Ned at your club last night.

He—I did, and what is worse, he raised me back.

Give a woman an inch and she gets the idea she is a ruler.

Heard on the tennis-court: "Poor fellow, he lost his amateur standing, and now he can't make a cent."

A traffic "walk" sign is a device used to get pedestrians halfway across the street safely.

It's a good and true thing that most of the things we worry about never happen.

Cosmetic ads do not agree with the doctor who says dreams last about five seconds.

Some new husbands don't understand it when the wife insists they carry an umbrella when rain is threatened. It's over their heads.

Mind the other fellow's business too much and your own may go to pot.

Tiger Batters Jose Gonzalez

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports
NEW YORK (AP) — Tiger lost his world middleweight crown to Joey Giardello eight months ago but today felt like a champion again. It was all because of his winning six-round technical

"I proved that I still do the championship fight," told reporters. "If Giacomini beats Ruben Carter, I hope to keep his promise at last. I can't avoid me now."

Tiger, grieved because dello chose Carter in preference to him for his first defense, the title he won from Tiger Dec. 7, had charged that champion had reneged on his promise to give him a rematch.

Aug. 14, demonstrated he lost none of his cunning punch as he battered Gonzalez into submission after a start.

Shortly after the start of the sixth round, Tiger stepped out of a clinch and landed a powerful right to Gonzalez' head. The punch spun the Puerto on a technical knockout. The victory was Tigers' and 23rd via a knockout. He lost 13 with three draws. In Gonzalez' 10th defeat in fights and only his third knockout.

Gonzalez staggered to his feet at the count of eight. It was obvious that he was through for the night. Referee Arthur Mercante ordered the fight stopped and awarded the bout to Gonzalez.

IUE Loses Move On Piece-Work Pay Rates at GE

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has turned down a union move to bar General Electric Co. from cancelling piece-work pay rates at its Schenectady plant.

Federal Judge Irving Ben Cooper Friday authorized the company to continue its practice of paying day wage rates, which went into effect last July 13.

A company spokesman said the ruling by Judge Cooper upheld an earlier ruling on the matter by Chief Federal Judge J. Sylvester Ryan.

The injunction was sought by the International Union of Electrical Workers on a claim that cancellation of piece-work rates would result in pay reductions totaling $10 million a year for some 3,000 workers at the plant. Judge Ryan had ordered the company to continue keeping records of piece-work rates in the Schenectady plant. Cooper continued that order.

At issue are the pay rates of so-called "piece" or "incentive workers" who now earn an average of $4.36 an hour.

On July 13, the company ordered pay schedules at the plant changed to conform with hourly rated employees averaging $2.91 an hour.

The company said costs at the Upstate plant had risen to such a point that they were placing GE in "a bad competitive position" both in the U.S. and abroad.

Cool But Noisy

NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—Dr. B. D. Thaw has a home air conditioning problem, but it isn't because his $45,000 unit won't work.

In fact, his neighbors claimed it worked so well cooling Dr. Thaw's expensive house that it kept them awake nights with the noise.

Attorney and Mrs. Harry L. Nair, who live near the doctor in an exclusive West Hartford suburb, brought their case to Norwich Superior Court.

Judge Joseph S. Longo issued a temporary injunction Friday ordering Dr. Thaw to turn his air conditioner off at night.

Good News In Jail

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP)—For want of $29 to pay his fine, Raymond L. Roeder, 48, is serving five days in jail on a drunk charge. But Roeder doesn't mind.

He learned in jail that he had just inherited $200,000.

Deputies were told Wednesday by Sheriff Jerry Cunningham of Rochester, Minn., that Roeder had been left the sum.

RFK Is Mulling Offer to Manage Johnson's Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has asked Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to manage his presidential campaign, informed sources said today.

They said the offer was made Wednesday at the same time Johnson told Kennedy he was eliminating him from consideration as a vice presidential candidate.

No Word From Aides

The offer reportedly is under consideration.

"I don't want to get into that," Kennedy said Friday when asked about reports of the offer before he left for Hyannis Port, Mass., for the weekend. Kennedy aides refused to be drawn into a discussion.

Johnson reportedly summoned the 38-year-old attorney general to the White House around noon Wednesday and told him he was not being considered for the second spot on the Democratic ticket.

Then the President suggested that Kennedy consider taking the job of campaign manager—the task he handled for his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, in 1960.

Later, presidential adviser McGee Bundy, a carryover from the Kennedy administration, called the attorney general, presumably at Johnson's behest. He wondered if Kennedy shouldn't voluntarily withdraw from vice presidential consideration—perhaps by "leaking" such a decision to a newspaper columnist.

Kennedy declined, pointing out that as attorney general he shouldn't be and wasn't running for the vice presidency and that to announce a "withdrawal" would seem ridiculous.

Thursday, at a news conference, Johnson gave his description of an ideal vice presidential candidate. He should be acceptable everywhere, Johnson said.

Unpopular In South

Kennedy is unpopular in the South.

Then, that evening, Johnson announced he had excluded all members of the Cabinet, including Kennedy, and those who meet regularly with it.

Kennedy is believed to wield considerable influence over Democratic machinery in a number of key states and it is this knowledge, several sources suggest, that led Johnson to ask Kennedy's services as campaign manager.

As for Kennedy, according to the most reliable reports:

1. He is puzzled, but not bitter, over the way Johnson handled the matter. He is likely to campaign for Johnson as he promised last January. Whether he will manage that campaign remains to be seen.

2. He has told political supporters across the nation for weeks that he would not fight for the nomination he believed was Johnson's to bestow. He never planned nor will he attempt a convention stampede because he thinks it would hurt the party and his future.

3. He will remain attorney general at least through the election and possibly, if Johnson is elected, through the January inauguration.

4. He remains deeply interested in foreign affairs—especially in South and Central America and Africa—and could be persuaded to accept a post bearing on these areas in a new Johnson administration.

5. He will attend the Democratic convention in Atlantic City as a member of the Massachusetts delegation.

Okie Gov. Sees No Delay on Seat Vote

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Gov. Henry Bellmon says there will be no delay in calling special primary elections to bring the state legislature into line with a population-based federal court reapportionment order.

A special three-judge panel threw out Oklahoma's primary elections Friday in a precedent-setting action and ordered reapportionment on a population basis. The U.S. Department of Justice said this was the first instance it knew of in which a federal court overthrew state legislative elections.

The court's action was a resounding defeat for rural legislators whose domination of the legislature spans half a century. The court's reapportionment plan follows the outlines drawn by State Atty. Gen. Charles Nesbitt and sets up a 48-member Senate and a 99-member House. It complies with recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings requiring apportionment on an equal population formula.

Capitol News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—After approval of some technical amendments, the Senate passed a "freedom of information" bill Friday and sent it to the House, where its fate is uncertain.

The Senate had passed the measure Tuesday but assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey had moved to force his proposal to the floor, despite what he called an organized drive by opponents to get members to remove their names.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has rejected the Soviet proposal for a new 14-nation conference on Laos. But it left the way open for possible approval later under certain conditions.

The conditions were spelled out in a note handed the Soviets Thursday and made public by the State Department Friday.

They are that the Reds cease fire in Laos and withdraw from positions taken during a recent offensive.

Family Asks RFK Not to Enforce Civil Rights Act

By JAMES PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A father and his son, co-owners of a Birmingham restaurant, have asked federal court to enjoin U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy from enforcing the Civil Rights Act.

The case was referred to a three-judge panel, yet to be constituted. The suit, submitted Friday by Ollie McClung and Ollie McClung Jr., owners of Ollie's Barbecue, also challenged the constitutionality of the public accommodations section of the civil rights measure. It was the second major court action filed on the new law in Birmingham within three days.

The action sets the stage for the fifth major legal test in the nation of the controversial public accommodations section. There have been two rulings so far—both in Atlanta—and the section was upheld.

On Wednesday, the Justice Department filed a suit here with Kennedy the only plaintiff, against 15 Tuscaloosa, Ala., eating places, seeking to enjoin them from a practice of discriminating against Negroes.

The McClungs said in their petition that they have refused service to Negroes inside the restaurant "in the lawful and legitimate exercise of their right to operate their business." They said they have long sold "take-out" orders to Negroes—to be eaten off the premises.

The owners said that, if forced to serve Negroes, their restaurant will suffer damages in excess of $10,000. The petition contended that the restaurant does not cater to or strive to serve persons traveling in interstate commerce, and that most of its food is bought locally.

Elderly Couple Robbed, Man Is Killed Upstate

HERKIMER, N.Y. (AP)—State Police retraced today events that led a 77-year-old trucker and his 71-year-old housekeeper from a supposed business appointment to robbery on a lonely road and the death of the man.

The body of Arthur Lowell of East Herkimer was found Friday wedged under the front axle of his truck. A rope encircled one wrist and the ground near the vehicle bore signs of a struggle, troopers said.

A coroner said Lowell's death was caused by internal hemorrhaging but State Police said it had not determined whether the body injuries were accidentally inflicted.

Investigator R. S. Charland said that Lowell and his housekeeper, Mrs. Lula Sweet, 71, had been robbed and troopers were seeking three men, believed to be in the 40s, in connection with the case.

Charland said Mrs. Sweet gave this account:

Woman Explains

She and Lowell were returning to their home from Little Falls by a little-used road so that Lowell could keep an appointment. He met two men in an isolated section, apparently discussed the alleged business transaction with them and drove the truck into a wooded rural road.

Lowell got out of the truck and disappeared with the two men.

Shortly after he left, one of the men reappeared by the truck, reached in the cab and snatched Mrs. Sweet's purse, containing $130, from her arm. The man then entered a maroon sedan and drove away.

Call Police

Mrs. Sweet waited for Lowell and when he did not return she started the truck but was unable to drive it. She walked to a house about two-tenths of a mile from the scene and waited on the lawn about 45 minutes until Mrs. Paz Yaneshak, who lives in the house, asked if she could be of help. Mrs. Sweet asked her to call State Police.

Charland said that Lowell's body was face down and that a rope that appeared to have been freshly parted encircled his right wrist. Another piece of rope was found near his left hand.

Lowell, a trucker and wood dealer, was known to carry large sums of money, Charland said.

Mrs. Sweet said she believed he had been carrying about $200 in his wallet which was empty. Charland said $111.50 was found in Lowell's shirt pocket.

Though Mrs. Sweet said she saw only two men, troopers said they believed a third man drove the car.

Talks to His Boss By Banging Truck

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—"So when I talk to Freddie, I was pounding like Khrushchev do in the speech."

Felix Fenech, 43, a Queens truck mechanic, thus testified how angry he became while describing to a fellow worker an argument he had just had with his boss.

The pounding was on a truck in a garage at their employer's, the Diehl & Sons Co. at Richmond Hill, Queens, in 1960. Fenech suffered a fractured right wrist.

The Appellate Division for the Third Judicial Department agreed unanimously with the Workmen's Compensation Board today that Fenech could not claim that he had suffered his injury during the course of his employment.

He was denied benefits under the program, which covers on-the-job accidents, for the time he lost from work.

The employer had argued that Fenech's injury resulted from an emotional outburst, not from any activity connected with his job.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry, enjoying one of the lightest summer slowdowns in years, took the business spotlight during the week.

U.S. Steel Corp. and Bethlehem Steel Corp., the two biggest producers, came out with their second quarter and first-half earnings reports.

Glowing Outlook

And industry leaders issued glowing statements about the outlook for the balance of the year.

U.S. Steel, the No. 1 steelmaker, reported earnings fell to $60.696,096, or $1 a share, in the second quarter from $73,214,182, or $1.23 a share, in the 1963 second quarter, when users were buying unusually heavily as a hedge against a strike that never came off.

In the first half, U.S. Steel earned $112,242,098, or $1.84 a share, compared with $103,132,956, or $1.67 a share, a year earlier.

Bethlehem's profits rose in the second quarter to $40,153,961, or 85 cents a share, from $29,361,031, or 61 cents a share, in the 1963 second quarter. This was because of a lesser provision for federal income taxes.

First-half earnings increased to $68,658,624, or $1.44 a share, from $48,700,411, or $1 a share, in the 1963 first half.

Roger M. Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, said steel consumption and economic activity are likely to remain on an even keel for the rest of the year.

Production Dips

Steel production dipped during the week to 2.27 million tons from 2.32 million the previous week. It was the eighth decline in nine weeks but the drops were not as sharp as usual at this time of year.

Steelmakers were heartened by the expectation that purchases by the automotive industry will rise in September when model changeover is completed. For the time being, model changes have slowed the auto industry's production. Output during the week was estimated at 61,000 passenger cars, down 46 per cent from the 114,995 turned out the previous week.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler ended production of 1964 cars and closed their plants for changeover.

Production of 1964 models was estimated at 7.8 million. The 1965 models are scheduled to start rolling off assembly lines Monday.

U.S. gold stock suffered a $70-million loss in June, the Federal Reserve Board reported. The amount was twice the drain in May and the largest monthly outflow in nearly a year.

First-half gold movements left U.S. holdings as of June 30 about $27 million higher than the $15,596,000,000 at the close of 1963.

Villagers Refuse To Give Crucifix To Art Official

MONTECRETO, Italy (AP)—Parishioners in this northern mountain village have been told by provincial authorities to hand over their cherished crucifix in one week so it can be repaired, or the law will step in.

The controversy began several months ago when an art teacher from the nearby city of Modena saw the crucifix in the parish church and judged it to be a rare masterpiece by an unknown 12th Century artist.

The teacher told government fine arts officials that the crucifix badly needed repairing, and a team of specialists was dispatched.

The specialists succeeded in moving the crucifix out of the church, but found themselves surrounded by grim-faced villagers who advised them to leave the crucifix alone and depart.

The art specialists left hurriedly. But the fine arts agency, insisting it has the right and duty to restore all valuable art works in its zone, asked the parish priest, the Rev. Tomino Cencchi, to explain the situation to the parishioners.

Two days ago the heads of Montecreto's families met with Father Cencchi. They listened attentively as he told them the crucifix would be returned to the church after restoration. Then they voted unanimously not to let it go.

Friday word came from Modena that, if the parishioners don't turn the crucifix over by Aug. 7 legal authorities will be asked to take it.

The crucifix is under lock and key in the home of the local sexton.

Clinic Next Week At Kerhonkson

Dr. Theodore S. Drachman, Commissioner of Health of Ulster County, announces a series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages four and five, which will be conducted at the Firehouse in Kerhonkson on Aug. 10 and 11.

Children participating in these clinics will have their teeth inspected, cleaned and will have an opportunity to participate in the program of decay prevention.

The children will be able to see dental equipment and have a chance to learn and understand the importance of dental health. In this way they will become interested and look forward to future visits to the dentist.

Appointments for those interested may be made by calling the Ellenville Health Center between 9-10 a. m.

Man Killed; Wife, Daughter Injured

CANASTOTA, N.Y. (AP)—A Canadian was killed and his wife and daughter were injured Friday when their automobile hauling a trailer went out of control on the Thruway, left the road and rolled over several times.

Donald MacDonald, 29, of Markham, Ont., died in the crash near the Canastota interchange, east of Syracuse.

His wife, Sheila, and their daughter, Susan, 4 months, were treated at Oneida City Hospital, where their condition was reported as good.

Over 20 Dogs Registered For Show on August 10

More than 20 dogs have already been registered at the Woodstock playground for the dog show scheduled for Monday afternoon, August 10 at the Andy Lee Field. Competition in seven classes will get underway at 2 p. m.

All dogs must be at least six months old and must be entered by a boy or girl. Dogs can enter up to any three of the following seven categories: Best costumed dog; longest tail; shortest tail; largest dog; shortest dog; best trick dog and best cared for dog. Entry blanks are still available at the Recreation Field from 9 till 4:30 Monday through Friday and from 9 till 12 on Saturday.

Woodstock entries may compete in the dog show at the Ulster County Fair where best of show prize is a bicycle. The Fair Dog Show is scheduled for 1:30 in the afternoon of the first day of the fair at Forsyth Park in Kingston.

Woodstock Week Letter

Sylvia Kondolf, publisher of The Woodstock Week, which suspended publication July 5, announces the publication of a capsule size newspaper called The Woodstock Week Letter. Designed to reflect the creative and cultural life of Woodstock, the new miniature publication also will present news of civic affairs. The publisher says no advertising is planned for the next two issues and it is possible that the paper may continue indefinitely without advertising.

Had Marijuana in Garden

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A back yard garden will bring 80-year-old Enrico Scimo into Circuit Court Monday to face charges of violating the state drug act.

He was arrested Friday and charged with raising marijuana plants from seeds he obtained in November in his native Sicily.

130,000 Witness Mormon Pageant, Concludes Tonight

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP)—The final Hill Cumorah Pageant performance of the season will be staged tonight on the hillside where more than 130,000 persons have attended five productions.

"America's Witness for Christ," the story of a lost tribe of Israel that settled in America 600 years before the time of Christ, is told by a cast of 400 and produced by Dr. Harold I. Hansen.

The pageant explains that the Angel Moroni came to 14-year-old Joseph Smith in 1820 and told him where the final golden plates that recorded the events of the lost tribe's civilization, which later crumbled in the wake of wars and corruption, Mormons believe.

Jackie Has No Plans To Attend Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy never planned to attend the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City later this month and still has no plans to attend, sources close to the Kennedy family said today.

There had been speculation that the widow of the assassinated president would return from a Mediterranean cruise in time for the convention.

These reports circulated before President Johnson publicly eliminated from vice presidential consideration Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

IUE Loses Move On Piece-Work Pay Rates at GE

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has turned down a union move to bar General Electric Co. from cancelling piece-work pay rates at its Schenectady plant.

Federal Judge Irving Ben Cooper Friday authorized the company to continue its practice of paying day wage rates, which went into effect last July 13.

A company spokesman said the ruling by Judge Cooper upheld an earlier ruling on the matter by Chief Federal Judge J. Sylvester Ryan.

The injunction was sought by the International Union of Electrical Workers on a claim that cancellation of piece-work rates would result in pay reductions totaling $10 million a year for some 3,000 workers at the plant.

Judge Ryan had ordered the company to continue keeping records of piece-work rates in the Schenectady plant. Cooper continued that order.

At issue are the pay rates of so-called "piece" or "incentive workers" who now earn an average of $4.36 an hour.

On July 13, the company ordered pay schedules at the plant changed to conform with hourly rated employees averaging $2.91 an hour.

The company said costs at the Upstate plant had risen to such a point that they were placing GE in "a bad competitive position" both in the U.S. and abroad.

In fact, his neighbors claimed it worked so well cooling Dr. Thaw's expensive house that it kept them awake nights with the noise.

Attorney and Mrs. Harry L. Nair, who live near the doctor in an exclusive West Hartford suburb, brought their case to Norwich Superior Court.

Judge Joseph S. Longo issued a temporary injunction Friday ordering Dr. Thaw to turn his air conditioner off at night.

RFK Is Mulling Offer to Manage Johnson's Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has asked Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to manage his presidential campaign, informed sources said today.

They said the offer was made Wednesday at the same time Johnson told Kennedy he was eliminating him from consideration as a vice presidential candidate.

No Word From Aides

The offer reportedly is under consideration.

WASHINGTON (AP)—After approval of some technical amendments, the Senate passed a "freedom of information" bill Friday and sent it to the House, where its fate is uncertain.

The Senate had passed the measure Tuesday but assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey had moved to reconsider. Humphrey and Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., one of the bill's sponsors, agreed to the minor amendment's Friday night as the bill was again passed without opposition.

It would spell out in detail the right of the public to information from government departments and agencies and would permit federal court suits to challenge withholding of information with the burden of proof on the government agency.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sponsor of a constitutional amendment to guarantee freedom to pray in public schools Friday made what he called his final appeal to House members to sign a petition to bring it to the floor.

Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., made several previous requests. The amendment is before the House Judiciary Committee, which completed lengthy hearings in June but has taken no action.

Becker says he has 170 of the necessary 213 signatures to force his proposal to the floor, despite what he called an organized drive by opponents to get members to remove their names.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today the total cost of the Ranger program to study the moon photographically will be $260 million.

Two more shots are scheduled in the Ranger series.

Defendant Weds Chief Witness, Then Starts Term

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The defendant married the prosecution's chief witness in judge's chambers Friday.

Judge Ralph C. Smith sentenced Albert D. Sayles, 24, of nearby McKeesport to six to 12 months in jail on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and assault and battery. He was accused of striking his girl friend, Ann Wallace, 22, of Pittsburgh.

No sooner had the judge passed sentence than Sayles whipped out some papers.

"I've got a license here to marry the girl I love," he said. "Ann has written to me all the time I've been in jail awaiting trial and we both want to marry."

Judge Smith called in a justice of the peace and had the ceremony performed.

The couple had a brief honeymoon of holding hands under the watchful eyes of five deputies before Sayles was marched off to start his term.

She and Lowell were returning to their home from Little Falls by a little-used road so that Lowell could keep an appointment. He met two men in an isolated section, apparently discussed the alleged business transaction with them and drove the truck into a wooded rural road.

Lowell got out of the truck and disappeared with the two men.

Shortly after he left, one of the men reappeared by the truck, reached in the cab and snatched Mrs. Sweet's purse, containing $130, from her arm.

The man then entered a maroon sedan and drove away.

Call Police

Mrs. Sweet waited for Lowell and when he did not return she started the truck but was unable to drive it. She walked to a house about two-tenths of a mile from the scene and waited on the lawn about 45 minutes until Mrs. Paz Yaneshak, who lives in the house, asked if she could be of help. Mrs. Sweet asked her to call State Police.

Charland said that Lowell's body was face down and that a rope that appeared to have been freshly parted encircled his right wrist. Another piece of rope was found near his left hand.

Lowell, a trucker and wood dealer, was known to carry large sums of money, Charland said.

Mrs. Sweet said she believed he had been carrying about $200 in his wallet which was empty. Charland said $11.50 was found in Lowell's shirt pocket.

Though Mrs. Sweet said she saw only two men, troopers said they believed a third man drove the car.

Talks to His Boss By Banging Truck

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—"So when I talk to Freddie, I was pounding like Khrushchev do in the speech."

Felix Fenech, 43, a Queens truck mechanic, thus testified how angry he became while describing to a fellow worker an argument he had just had with his boss.

The pounding was on a truck in a garage at their employer's, the Diehl & Sons Co. at Richmond Hill, Queens, in 1960. Fenech suffered a fractured right wrist.

The Appellate Division for the Third Judicial Department agreed unanimously with the Workmen's Compensation Board today that Fenech could not claim that he had suffered his injury during the course of his employment.

He was denied benefits under the program, which covers on-the-job accidents, for the time he lost from work.

The employer had argued that Fenech's injury resulted from an emotional outburst, not from any activity connected with his job.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry, enjoying one of the lightest summer lead-ins in years, took the business spotlight during the week.

U.S. Steel Corp. and Bethlehem Steel Corp., the two biggest producers, came out with their second quarter and first-half earnings reports.

Glowing Outlook

And industry leaders issued glowing statements about the outlook for the balance of the year.

U.S. Steel, the No. 1 steelmaker, reported earnings fell to $60.696, or $1 a share, in the second quarter from $73.214, or $1.23 a share, in the 1963 second quarter, when users were buying unusually heavily as a hedge against a strike that never came off.

In the first half, U.S. Steel

earned $112,242,098, or $1.84 a share, compared with $103,132,956, or $1.67 a share, a year earlier.

Bethlehem's profits rose in the second quarter to $40,153,961, or $5.85 cents a share, from $29,361,031, or 61 cents a share, in the 1963 second quarter. This was because of a lesser provision for federal income taxes.

First-half earnings increased to $68,658,624, or $1.44 a share, from $48,700,411, or $1 a share, in the 1963 first half.

Roger M. Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, said steel consumption and economic activity are likely to remain on an even keel for the rest of the year.

Production Dips

Steel production dipped during the week to 2.27 million tons from 2.32 million the previous week. It was the eighth decline in nine weeks but the drops were not as sharp as usual at this time of year.

Steelmakers were heartened by the expectation that purchases by the automotive industry will rise in September when model changeover is completed.

For the time being, model changes have slowed the auto industry's production. Output during the week was estimated at 61,000 passenger cars, down 46 per cent from the 114,995 turned out the previous week.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler ended production of 1964 cars and closed their plants for changeover.

Production of 1964 models was estimated at 7.8 million. The 1965 models are scheduled to start rolling off assembly lines Monday.

U.S. gold stock suffered a $70-million loss in June, the Federal Reserve Board reported. The amount was twice the drain in May and the largest monthly outflow in nearly a year.

First-half gold movements left U.S. holdings as of June 30 about $27 million higher than the $15,596,000,000 at the close of 1963.

130,000 Witness Mormon Pageant, Concludes Tonight

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP)—The final Hill Cumorah Pageant performance of the season will be staged tonight on the hillside where more than 130,000 persons have attended five productions.

"America's Witness for Christ," the story of a lost tribe of Israel that settled in America 600 years before the time of Christ, is told by a cast of 400 and produced by Dr. Harold I. Hansen.

The pageant explains that the Angel Moroni came to 14-year-old Joseph Smith in 1820 and told him where the find golden plates that recorded the events of the lost tribe's civilization, which later crumbled in the wake of wars and corruption, Mormons believe.

Jackie Has No Plans To Attend Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy never planned to attend the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City later this month and still has no plans to attend, sources close to the Kennedy family said today.

There had been speculation that the widow of the assassinated president would return from a Mediterranean cruise in time for the convention.

These reports circulated before President Johnson publicly eliminated from vice presidential consideration Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.
